Around 5,000 employees are due to retire in the next five years

Air India flies to its former owner; no resale for 5 yrs

Tata heirloom returns home

ANURADHA SHUKLA @ New Delhi

SIXTY-eight years after it ceded control of Air India to the government, the Tata group on Friday won the bid to take over the national carrier, thus successfully completing the Centre's multiple attempts to turn around and sell the debt-ridden airline.

Talace Pvt Ltd, a subsidiary of Tata Sons, made the winning bid of ₹18,000 crore, said Tuhin Kanta Pandey, Secretary in the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM). Of the ₹18,000 crore, ₹15,300 crore would be the debt retained by the winning bidder and Tata Sons will pay ₹2,700 crore in cash, Pandey said.

The transaction, however, does not include non-core assets such as land and building, valued at ₹14,718 crore. These will be transferred to the Air India Asset Holding Ltd.

Air India has a debt of ₹61,562 crore at the end of August 31. After payout by the Tatas, ₹46,262 crore of debt will still remain with government entities.

"The next step will be to issue the Letter of Intent (LoI) and then sign the Share Purchase Agreement following which, the conditions precedent would need to be satisfied by the successful bidder, the company and Government. It is expected that the transaction will be completed by December 2021," read a finance ministry statement.

"It has been ensured that the interest of the employees and retired employees would be taken care of,"

WINNING BID
₹18,000 cr	Bag of goodies
₹2,700 cr (cash)	100% stake in Air India
₹15,300 cr	100% stake in AI Express debt takeover	Air India's 117 wide-body and narrow-body aircraft
Air India Employees
Total 12,085	Permanent 8,084
Contractual 4,001	Control of 4,400 domestic & 1,800 global landing and parking slots

the finance ministry added, clarifying on the fate of 12,000-odd employees of Air India.

The Centre added that the winning bidder will retain all employees for one year. If they are retrenched after one year, they will be offered a voluntary retirement scheme. On Air India's brand and logo, the government said the winning bidder will have to retain them for five years.

The government had set the reserve price for the airline at ₹12,906 crore. Apart from the Tata group, Spicejet chairman Ajay Singh had placed a bid of ₹15,100 crore (₹2,265 crore cash payment and ₹12,835 crore debt takeover).

The process for disinvestment of Air India and its subsidiaries had commenced in June 2017. However, there was no bidder for the first round. The government then re-worked the terms and conditions and re-commenced on January 27, 2020. P17

SC slams UP for failing to arrest minister's son

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING dissatisfaction at the way the Lakhimpur Kheri violence in UP is being probed, the Supreme Court on Friday said the state government should show some seriousness in dealing with it.

"Your seriousness is only in words and not in your actions," Chief Justice of India N V Ramana snapped at senior advocate Harish Salve, who appeared for the UP government.

"Is this the way you treat (murder) accused in other cases as well?" the CJI asked, when Salve said the UP Police have issued summons to accused Ashish Mishra, son of Union minister Ajay Mishra, to appear at 11 am on Saturday since he failed to turn up on Friday.

When Salve said the summons was issued to the accused since the autopsy report did not find bullet wounds on the bodies of the eight victims, the court asked, "Is this a ground for not taking custody?"

Salve conceded, "The manner in which this car was driven, it leaves no doubt that the allegations (of farmers mowed down) are true. It is possibly a 302 (Sec 302, which prescribes punishment for murder)." The court shot back, "This is a responsible state government and police. When there is a serious allegation of death or gunshot injury, will the other accused in this country be treated the same way? Sending them notices, like asking to please come tell us?... See what is the message we are sending. In normal circumstances, if a 302 case is registered, what will the police do? Go and arrest the accused." The bench was hearing a PIL registered on the basis of a letter sent by two lawyers.

The CJI also did not see merit in an SIT formed for the case, saying they are all local officers. He asked the state to direct the DGP to protect the evidence. P11

Hooked to gadgets, kids get withdrawal symptoms

Mental health experts say offline classes are making children anxious

It may be early to generalise the issue, but we need to wait for classes to start in full strength. We could probably get a larger picture once all kids start offline classes

Dr Mahesh Gowda, Director of Spandana Healthcare

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

WHEN offline classes resumed, 14-year-old Vihaan's teacher observed that he was getting panic attacks in school. His mother noticed that Vihaan would rush to his phone as soon as he was back home and would even sleep less. This led to more tantrums, sleep deprivation, and Vihaan soon found himself at a child psychiatrist, who told the parents that these are "withdrawal" symptoms.

Doctors are of the opinion that longer screen times during the pandemic has led to such issues. Dr Mahesh Gowda, Psychiatrist, Director of Spandana Healthcare, said, "We have seen a lot of parents coming with these complaints. Because of the pandemic and online classes, most children are using computers, smartphones, tabs etc. So, when they have to go back to school, they get anxious. Schools restrict access to phones for certain ages and this has become a concern for many students." He added that parents or the school had little control over screen time.

Dr Preethi Galgali, Consultant Paediatrician and Adolescent Health Specialist, said that she is motivating children to go to school and told them that they can return to online classes if they find offline ones hard.

However, Dr Manoj Sharma, who heads the Service for Healthy Use of Technology (SHUT) clinic at NIMHANS, said, "The scenario has not changed much in terms of numbers. But parents report children are okay with offline classes, but prefer online ones." He added that not only online classes, they also surf the internet and play online games.

Scanners being installed at a Metro station to accept the new cards

Nat'l mobility card from Oct 21

S LALITHA@Bengaluru

TO mark 10 years of operations of city's Metro, Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRL), will be launching the much-awaited National Common Mobility Card (NCMC) on October 21. BMRL is all set to launch 'One Nation, One Card' with 25,000 cards ordered in its first batch. However, the Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) is not yet ready to offer the facility to commuters.

The utility of the card, based on the Rupay payment system, is that it can be used on all Metro networks, buses, parking, and retail shopping.

BMRL Managing Director Anjum Parwez said, "The Automatic Fare Collection gates at our Phase-I stations have been retrofitted to accept the NCMC card. All the Phase-II stations are already equipped to handle this facility." The Rupay debit card will be available at all banks and Metro stations, he said. Asked if the NCMC would be priced, Parwez said, "We are still holding discussions and are yet to reach the final decision." The present

Metro travel card is available at Rs 50 and one needs to have a minimum balance of the same amount to make a trip. The card can be used in Delhi

Metro's Airport Line which launched the facility in December 2020, he added. Anbu Kumar, BMTC Managing Director told TNIE, "There is no doubt the card will be very useful to the public. We are still analysing and studying it and hope to take a final call on adopting it within a fortnight." However, he pointed out that BMTC could not adopt it as quickly as BMRL.

Metro Purple Line partially shut today

BENGALURU: Metro operations between Balyappaiahalli and MG Road will not be operational from 4 pm on October 9 and will restart by 6 am on October 10. This is due to maintenance work to be carried out along the Purple Line. According to an official release, "BMRL will be taking up structural maintenance works on the Purple Line on October 8, from 4 pm between Trinity and Halasuru Metro stations." Metro trains between MG Road and Kengeri Metro stations of the Purple Line and the entire Green Line (Nagasandra-Silk Institute stretch) will run without any disruption.

Gaps in road safety for kids: Survey

PEARL MARIA DSOUZA @Bengaluru

A national-level survey on road safety has found that an alarming 30% of children witnessed a crash during their commute to school, while 6% of them were themselves involved in a road crash or a near-miss situation during their commute to and from school.

In Bengaluru, (887 respondents of which 428 were children) alone, 8% of the parents said their ward was involved in a road crash; 19% of the children reported that they had witnessed a road crash. About 44% of the children respondents reported that no action was taken. Two out of three respondents said that there was a road safety workshop conducted in schools.

A report titled 'National Study on Safe Commute to School' released by SaveLIFE Foundation and Mercedes-Benz Research and Development India (MBRDI), stated that a survey on 11,845 respondents, including 5,711 children (of classes 6-12) and 6,134 parents (with children in classes 1-12) across 14 cities in India, was conducted during the first national lockdown and the interviews were conducted telephonically.

The report highlights gaps in road safety for children - from lack of footpaths near school zones to being involved in a road crash. Cities surveyed were Ahmedabad, Bengaluru, Bhopal, Chennai, Delhi, Jaipur, Jamshedpur, Kanpur, Kolkata, Lucknow, Mumbai, Patna, Pune, and Vijayawada.

Of the students who walk to school in Bengaluru, 79% reported that they never used retro-reflective stickers, 33 per cent said there are no footpaths present around their school zone while one in three students (less than the national average of 47%) reported that there are no cycling paths at the school zone.

While 47% of the surveyed respondents using school transport admitted to their school vehicles not being equipped with seat belts. More than half of the parents stated that school authorities took no action on the safety concerns reported.

SaveLIFE Foundation Founder & CEO Piyush Tewari said, "As of date, over 25 states and Union Territories have announced the reopening of schools. While there is a vaccine for Covid-19, the vaccine for child deaths on roads is our collective action. Our findings through this report have once again emphasised that the right to a safe commute to school is as important as the right to education itself. A comprehensive national and state school transport safety policy can ensure that.

Manu Saale, Managing Director and CEO, MBRDI, said, "The findings from this study show unequivocally the raising need for road safety in the country. We hope that this study will help all stakeholders further extend our vision of zero casualties to all modes of road transport."

Catch those dumping garbage, get ₹5k reward

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike has deployed marshals to keep an eye on those dumping garbage on the roadside and penalise them, villages on the outskirts have no one to keep watch. The villages coming under Bidarahalli Gram Panchayat often witness dumping of waste on the roadside leading to roads getting blocked. Fed up with the nuisance, the panchayat has now announced a cash prize for anyone tipping them off about illegal garbage dumping.

Bidarahalli Gram Panchayat includes eight villages with a population of about 50,000.

Though adjacent to the KR Puram Assembly constituency, one of the IT pockets of Bengaluru, it falls outside the BBMP limits, making it easy for garbage contractors to dump waste without taking it to the designated site.

B V Varun (28), a first-time member and president of the panchayat, explained that they are facing this issue for many years. Garbage from the city is illegally dumped during the night on the Kitaganur-Bidarahalli road, he says. "In fact, when we had deputed a security guard at night, no garbage would be dumped. But when they are not there, garbage is dumped, creating nuisance," he said.

Waste dumped by the roadside being cleared by the panchayat | EXPRESS

There are no houses for about half-a-kilometre stretch and it is not possible to find out who dumped garbage. But, determined to put an end to the menace, the panchayat president has announced a cash prize of Rs 5000 for those who catch hold of offenders. "I took the help of a waterman, who goes to every village, to spread the message," Varun said. "Earlier too, waste was dumped and we sent it back to the BBMP garbage processing unit in our vehicle," he added.

On its part, the panchayat is making all arrangements to process waste generated within its limits and has eight vehicles, one to each village, for door-to-door collection. "On the one hand, we are trying to have our waste processing unit with the help of a self-help group and process the waste generated in our limits. On the other hand, waste from BBMP limits is being dumped here which irks the villagers," Varun noted.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

09th October: Today's significant number is six, which signifies harmony. This doesn't mean that everything will be all peace and love, but that if we choose the path of friendship, cooperation and collaboration then the stars are on our side. I can't think of a better message for the day.

ARIES

(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

Be prepared to stand alone if it is the only way to get what you know you deserve. Mars, your courageous planetary ruler, will supply all the strength you need and require to achieve your ends. It will also contribute to a stroke of good fortune at work.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 - May 21)

What takes place now must improve the conditions of your working life. Even social contacts you make may have significant professional repercussions. Friends have your best interests at heart, even if, just lately, they seem to have been ignoring your feelings.

GEMINI

(May 22 - June 21)

You are not the type to compromise, yet when Venus forms a supportive relationship with your sign, this is just what you must do. It's much better to be tactful now, than live to eat your words later. You will do yourself a favour if you keep out of a dispute between partners.

CANCER

(June 22 - July 23)

For someone who is so sensitive you can be so remarkably tough, as a contradiction which often betrays your loved ones and perplexes your friends. Over the present period both these qualities are essential if you are to succeed. Stick to the facts for a change!

LEO

(July 24 - Aug. 23)

For weeks now you have been fighting an uphill battle. One of your complaints is that a particular person, or people, has been concealing information from you. Whether this has been deliberate or not is another matter. And that is what you have to work out before you take another step.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

What is fair in one context may not be so in another. Therefore it's up to you to be flexible and meet partners half way. Your reputation will receive a boost if you are seen to do the right thing. Your stars are looking better and better as the days pass, in spite of rising tension.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Boredom is not often one of your problems, partly because you're always on your toes expecting a disaster of one kind or another. However, this will be a quiet weekend unless you are actively disturbed by other people. And, if you are, try to placate them as quickly as you can.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Don't capitulate to unfair pressure just yet. Help has arrived in the form of Venus, one of the most beneficial of the planets. From now on, you will discover the virtues of true friendship. It's not always easy for you to reveal your deeper feelings - but do have a go. It might do you good!

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

You simply cannot let up now, just when the Sun and Venus are aiding your sign. Weary as you may be, you are about to find your second wind, and there's no doubt about your ability to win through. You will soon be facing up to a new responsibility - and very successfully, too, may I say.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

It seems likely that there will be plenty to interest you in out-of-the-way places, and mysterious activities. If you want stimulation, try and make a break with your normal routine - and experiment with change. I know it's difficult, but you shouldn't regret it!

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

You gave an inch and people expected a mile. Now you want them to reciprocate but you may have a very long wait. One of the lessons you must learn is that other people can be every bit as stubborn as you. That may come as a surprise to you, but not to your friends.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 - Mar. 20)

Your weekend may be disturbed by news about your career, or by comings and goings at home. It's not a bad moment to take practical decisions that you've been putting off for some time now. Don't worry. It's just that you have troublesome planets at the moment; they'll soon pass.

FARM CRISIS

CM seeks more fertiliser
from Centre for Rabi crop

Bommai requests 32,000 tonnes of DAP, 10,000 tonnes of MOP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FACING a shortage of DAP (Di-ammonium Phosphate) fertilizer for the Rabi season, the State Government on Friday appealed to the Union Government for bulk supplies of the fertiliser to overcome the shortfall.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday met Union Minister for Health & Family Welfare and Chemicals and Fertilizers, Mansukh Mandaviya, in New Delhi and requested for supplies of 32,000 tonnes of DAP and 10,000 tonnes of MOP (Muriate of Potash) for the sowing season. "There was some shortage of DAP for the Rabi season. We have asked for 32,000 tonnes and they have agreed to provide the same to us," Bommai told the media after meeting the Union Minister. He also said that there was no shortage of urea and they have adequate stocks as the Centre has allocated 79,860 tonnes to the state for 2021-22.

The New Indian Express was the first to report on the shortage of DAP faced by Karnataka's farmers. It is the much-preferred fertiliser owing to its nitrogen and phosphorus content that are the primary nutrients for crops.

Farmers from different parts of the state reported insufficient stock of DAP at cooperative societies and dealerships. Even officials and dealers had admitted to a shortage, although the government had initially denied it, instead putting the blame on problems in transportation and supplies to the farmers.

On Friday, the Centre assured the state of supplying 42,000 tonnes of fertilisers. "They assured us of releasing DAP within a week," he said.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who is the chairman of the Group of Ministers (GoM), on Friday said a meeting will soon be convened to discuss the rationalisation of Goods and Services Tax (GST). Speaking to the media in New Delhi after meeting Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Bommai said the GoM report has to be submitted within two months. "There are many important subjects, including restructuring and rationalisation of the GST and increasing revenues in the coming days. We have discussed all those subjects in detail and I will soon call the first meeting of the GoM," he said.

Bommai appealed for more grants to Karnataka under the National Bank of Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD) scheme for infrastructure projects. Karnataka also asked for increasing loans from NABARD, which is Rs 1,500 crore this year. The CM said that it will help farmers as well as for the development of rural areas.

Bommai said Nirmala Sitharaman is likely to visit Bengaluru in the first week of November and they will hold separate meetings to discuss NABARD and Small Industries Development Bank (SIDBI) projects. From SIDBI, priority is being given to starting small industries and micro-finance, he said.

On GST compensation to the state, Bommai said the state has got full compensation till last year. In the Covid year (2020-21), the state got Rs 12,000 crore and up to this March (2021), Rs 11,800 crore is due, and that is already being released in installments, he said. Apart from that, the Centre has approved the GST compensation loan of Rs 18,000 crore for the financial year by borrowing from financial institutions. The GST collection has also improved this year and compensation will also increase comparatively, Bommai added.

'Proposed
Kharage for
CM post'

Gowda said that he had suggested to Sonia Gandhi after the 2018 polls to make Mallikarjun Kharge the state's CM and claimed that the latter had agreed. "Since the Congress had won more seats than the JDS, it was embarrassing for us to stake claim to the CM's post. Senior Congress leader Ghulam Nabi Azad agreed to convince Sonia. If that did not materialise, they were convinced to make H D Kumaraswamy the CM," he added. He also termed as unfair the recent detention of AICC general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra in Uttar Pradesh.

NO CONNECTION WITH RSS,
INSISTS DEVE GOWDAEXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda on Friday said that he had no connection with the RSS as claimed by BJP national general secretary C T Ravi and added that had not praised the organisation in the past. Addressing the media at the party office here, Gowda hit out at Ravi for spreading misinformation on social media.

Ravi had recently tweeted how Gowda had a word of appreciation for the RSS in the past and that H D Kumaraswamy should learn about the organisation from his father before commenting on it. Kumaraswamy had recently charged that the RSS, as part of its "hidden agenda", had created a team of bureaucrats in the country. "There is a limit to telling lies. Except for providing the banquet hall (at Vidhana Soudha) for an event which I had presided over when I was the CM, I have had no relations with the RSS. I had even raised objection when the RSS misused the banquet hall," Gowda said.

The former PM further added that the work done by the RSS during its formative years was appreciated by everyone and was different from what is being done by it at present. "The work done by Hedgewar's (founding Sarsanghachalak of RSS) Sangh or RSS was different from the work being done today... there is no relation at all," Gowda stressed.

Gowda defended his party's decision of fielding Muslims for the Hanagal and Sindagi Assembly bypolls, saying it was necessary as the Congress was poaching its probable candidates. "I had groomed MC Managuli and he became a minister thrice. Managuli even erected a statue for me. Now, the Congress has poached his son Ashok Managuli and fielded him from Sindagi. Should I keep quiet in such a situation?" he asked. The bypoll in Hanagal was necessitated following the demise of M C Managuli earlier this year.

Gowda further added that fielding a Muslim in the recent Basavakalyan bypoll was also inevitable. "The late Narayan Rao was also my sishya. Did I groom him considering his caste?" he asked.

Gowda clarified that he had not fielded Muslim candidates with an objective of defeating the Congress. "There are examples of Muslims winning the seats in the past. In Old Mysuru, including Hassan and Mandya, we do not have potential candidates from the community to field," he pointed out. "I will not tolerate the propaganda against JDS. He (Siddaramaiah) should not forget the past and remember from where he emerged as a leader," Gowda said, indirectly taking a dig at Siddaramaiah.

Asked about Congress MLC C M Ibrahim returning to the JDS, Gowda, on a positive note, said the former had enough political maturity to take a decision. He also clarified that he will campaign only in Sindagi to retain the seat.

Day after IT raid, CMO staffer sent back to BMTC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after Income Tax officials raided the premises of Umesh MR, who was working in the Chief Minister's Office (CMO), he was repatriated to his home department, the Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC).

Umesh was a driver-cum-conductor attached to the BMTC's Puttenahalli depot and had been on deputation to the Chief Minister's Office for about a decade. He is believed to be close to former CM B S Yediyurappa and was apparently the go-to man regarding works related to the Irrigation Department.

Umesh hails from Ayanur in Shivamogga district. On Thursday Yediyurappa had acknowledged that Umesh had worked in the CMO with him while his son and MP B Y Raghavendra had said that their family knew him for about 12 years.

Though he was directed to report back to his parent department on Friday, Umesh did not turn up for work. It is speculated that he may report for work sometime next week.

On Thursday, Income Tax sleuths had carried out raids at over 50 locations in Karnataka including in Bengaluru, Bagalkot, Belagavi, Vijayapura and Davanagere in connection with tax evasion and amassing wealth more than the known sources of income, sources in the I-T department said.

Action sought against Hindutva groups for threatening college

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

AN open letter, endorsed by several organisations like the Campaign to Defend Democracy, All India People's Forum (AIPF) and activists like P Sainath, Harsh Mander and others, has called upon the Dakshina Kannada district administration and the police to take immediate action against VHP, Bajrang Dal and other right-wing outfits for engaging in criminal intimidation and issuing threats to St Aloysius College, Mangaluru, following its decision to name one of its parks after tribal activist late Fr Stan Swamy.

The Hindutva outfits, at a press meet, had threatened that they will not allow naming of the park after Swamy at any cost and that the college will be responsible for any untoward incident. "They have absolutely no right to interfere in the matters of a private institution. These organisations have a stated purpose and history of violence, communal divisiveness and subscribe to an idea of our country, with scant regard for the Constitution and the rule of law. This blatantly illegal behaviour is a consequence of the free run that is being given to these fascist organisations in coastal Karnataka. These organisations are imposing social apartheid, interfering in the private affairs of citizens and acting against the Constitutional principle of fraternity by engaging in daily acts of violence and intimidation with impunity. Members of these organisations have engaged in lynching of minorities across the country, conducting riots and engaging in violence to push minorities into second-class citizenship," said the letter.

The letter maintains that Fr. Stan Swamy was a person who was falsely implicated in the cases pending against him and subjected to the most inhuman treatment, leading to his untimely death. "Imprisoned at the age of 84 while suffering from Parkinson's disease, he was denied the most basic of rights, being deprived of even a sipper. He dedicated his entire life to the upliftment of the oppressed sections of society and was targeted precisely for this reason. We stand with Fr. Stan Swamy," it added.

The organisations and activists have demanded immediate action "against these fascist organisations for their actions of criminal intimidation" and said "the district administration and police should provide adequate protection to the college to ensure that there is no interference in its private affairs."

BJP's Bhusanur, Sajjanar file nominations on last day

BJP workers accompany party candidate Shivaraj Sajjanar while filing his nomination papers for the Hanagal Assembly bypoll on Friday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayapura, Hubballi

THE BJP's Ramesh Bhusanur and Shivaraj Sajjanar — candidates for the October 30 bypolls from Sindagi and Hanagal Assembly segments, respectively — filed their nomination papers on Friday, the last day to do so.

Filing his nomination in Sindagi, Bhusanur was accompanied by ministers K S Eshwarappa, Govind Karjol, Shashikala Jolle, Byrathi Basavaraj, C C Patil and V Somanna and former deputy CM Laxman Savadi.

Speaking to the media, Eshwarappa claimed that the Congress will split into two before the 2023 Assembly polls — one led by KPCC chief DK Shivakumar and the other by former CM Siddaramaiah. "There is no unity between Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar. This will affect the Grand Old Party's prospects in the 2023 Assembly polls," the RDPR minister added. Responding to statements made by Congress leaders that B S Yediyurappa and his aides were being targeted intentionally by the IT

"The IT department is an independent institution. The ruling party is not involved in the recent raids."

Savadi, who is BJP in-charge of Sindagi bypolls, said, "I am confident that the BJP will win the bypoll by a margin of 20,000 votes. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will also campaign."

Irrigation Minister Govind Karjol hit out at the Congress and JDS for their recent remarks on the RSS.

To a question on why the BJP declined in announcing candidates, Savadi said, "We had sent the candidate list to the party high command a week ago. It was delayed because the central leaders believe that announcing candidates after the full-moon day will be auspicious for the party."

Meanwhile, Sajjanar filed his nomination from Hanagal on Friday. Hundreds of BJP workers and several party leaders had gathered in support of Sajjanar. The BJP fielded Sajjanar, who hails from the neighbouring Haveri constituency, to contest the Hanagal bypoll. It was expected that the party would give the ticket to Revathi Udasi, wife of Haveri MP Shivakumar Udasi, hoping that the sympathy factor could help her win. The bypoll was necessitated following the demise of C M Udasi, Revathi's father-in-law.

The decision of the national leaders disappointed Shivakumar and his supporters. However, he managed to convince those staging protests for the last two days.

Addressing the gathering, BJP state chief Nalin Kumar Kateel said former minister CM Udasi set a milestone in the development of the constituency. "In the last 2-3 years, the Yediyurappa and Bommai governments have given the best administration. People should support Sajjanar to carry forward the same legacy," he added.

Congress will win bypolls by huge margins: Siddu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Vijayapura

EXPRESSING confidence of winning the bypolls with a thumping majority, Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leader Siddaramaiah on Friday stressed that inflation rate has reached record heights during the BJP rule. "People are fed up with the saffron party's governance and now the wind is blowing towards the Congress," he remarked. Siddaramaiah accompanied Congress candidate Ashok Managuli who filed his nomination for the Sindagi bypoll in Sindagi town on Friday. "As per our reports and my reading of the people's pulse, I am confident that the Congress will win at least by a margin of 25,000 votes in both Sindagi and Hanagal," he noted.

"It has become difficult for common man to lead a normal life as the prices of fuel, gas and groceries have reached record highs. People should exact revenge against the present government by exercising their franchise in favour of the Congress in the bypolls and ensure the victory of Ashok Managuli in Sindagi," he appealed to voters. "The financial situation of the State Government has worsened," he fumed. KPCC president D K Shivakumar said, "A few weeks before his demise, former minister M C Managuli had met me and Siddaramaiah personally and asked us to induct his son Ashok Managuli into the party and aid his political growth. As per his wish, and taking all local leaders into confidence, the party has fielded Ashok. I am confident that the people will elect him as their leader in the bypoll."

ASHOK'S ASSETS WORTH ₹6CR

Congress candidate Ashok Managuli has declared individual assets worth Rs 6.9 crore in his affidavit. These include immovable assets worth Rs 6.36 crore and moveable assets worth Rs 33.46 lakh. He owns jewellery worth Rs 2.25 lakh and two luxury cars worth Rs 62 lakh. He also has debts of Rs 86.65 lakh. His wife Nagratna Managuli has assets valued at Rs 63.25 lakh, including jewellery worth Rs 9 lakh. She also has debt of Rs 37.55 lakh.

BBMP RECORDS A DIP IN NUMBER OF DAILY JABS

Officials cite hesitancy among people as one of the reasons

IFFATH FATHIMA @ Bengaluru

THE Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has been trying hard to vaccinate a large number of people, but going by the war room data, it has been lagging over the last few days. The reason cited by the officials is that the people are not coming forward to get vaccinated.

The city's daily vaccinations were between 50,000 and 60,000, but on October 3, only 9,803 were vaccinated and on October 4, 43,423 people were covered. However, the city still did not achieve the 50,000-plus daily target. On October 5, it dipped to 33,580 and fell further on October 6 to 26,233.

BBMP officials reintroduced block and lane-level vaccinations on October 4, setting up vaccination camps in 4,000 blocks. The teams are now going door-to-door to vaccinate people. But the teams are complaining that people are not cooperative. A BBMP health official said, "Many people don't want to reveal whether they are vaccinated or not. Those not vaccinated are not coming forward. If there are any medical reasons, we note them down in the survey to develop a database. Those hesitating are educated. Some even say that they are already vaccinated, but do not produce vaccination certificates. It has been a difficult start."

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) Randeep D agreed that the daily coverage has been low, but said the idea is to get families vaccinated 100 per cent. "Going door-to-door, we can vaccinate every individual. If we focus on covering every individual, we will achieve 100 per cent coverage. Now, the block and lane vaccination is going slow as people are hesitant. Also, our teams have to go door-to-door which takes time. There is also a shortage of teams to cover more houses in a single day. We need to employ more vaccinators and other staff. The aim is to hasten the process with the present manpower."

Asked if there is a shortage of vaccines, he said, "There is no shortage. We have covered over 45 per cent of slum population. At present, the first dose coverage is 86% in the city, while second dosage is 49% which is good."

People have not been turning up for vaccinations even at hospitals. A medical officer at the Bangalore Medical College Research Institute said that earlier, around 800-1,000 people were getting vaccinated per day which has fallen to 200. "It could be due to the long wait for second dose of Covishield. With more campaigns in the city, people prefer spots closer to them," he added.

TO BOOST HEALTH INFRA

K'taka seeks Central funds to upgrade PHCs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

HEALTH Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Friday met Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya in New Delhi along with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and sought additional fund allocation under the National Health Mission (NHM) for upgradation of primary Healthcare Centres (PHCs) across Karnataka.

Speaking to the media after the meeting, Dr Sudhakar said, "The state has an inventory of over 50 lakh doses of vaccines and has achieved 82% coverage of the first dose and 37% coverage of second dose among the eligible population. The State Government is planning to upgrade and modernise all PHCs in the state and we have sought additional funds under NHM to implement it. The Centre has responded positively to our request. We also discussed about strengthening trauma care, secondary and tertiary care in all districts across the state," he said.

Sudhakar had earlier stated that he aims to upgrade 250

PHCs per year under the NHM to ensure better quality of health care to people with the addition of doctors and nurses and better infrastructure.

He also pointed out that the State Government was awaiting the Centre's guidelines on vaccination for children. "The children's vaccine is in the trial phase and the Centre will soon decide after discussing with vaccine manufacturers. We must not let our guard down against the pandemic and the state has released guidelines for the festival season too. We are continuing to conduct about one lakh tests every day and the positivity rate is less than 0.4%. So there is no need to panic," he said.

Bommai updated the Union Health Minister on the state's measures on the Covid-19 front, and said the vaccination target by December-end is to give the first dose to 90 per cent of eligible persons and the second dose to at least 70 per cent.

Bommai said Mandaviya will be in Bengaluru on October 10 and will review the state's health infrastructure.

At 140, B'luru records lowest addition of fresh Covid-19 cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BENGALURU Urban district reported the lowest single-day addition in the number of new Covid-19 cases since March, with only 140 new cases on Friday. The total number of cases in the state too was low with only 397 new cases reported. The previous lowest additions were reported on July 25 with 165 cases followed by 166 cases on October 6 and October 7.

The city has been seeing a reduction in the number of active cases. On October 4, there were 7,640 active cases, followed by a reduction to 7,599 on October 5 and 7,572 active cases on October 6. On October 7, the active case count was 7,573 which dropped to 7,552 cases on October 8.

Meanwhile, Karnataka recorded 397 new cases on Friday. On October 4 too, the state had reported 397 cases, the lowest addition in the second wave. However, between October 5 and 7, the new cases were between 442 and 523.

While the numbers have been coming down, the number of Covid tests being conducted too have come down. From 1.4-1.6 lakh Covid-19 tests per day, the state carried out only 78,958 tests on October 4 followed by 87,303 on October 5, 1,21,898 tests on October 6 and 1,22,657 tests on October 7. On October 8, there was a dip, with only 91,772 tests being conducted.

The state's positivity reduced from 6.23% on October 1 to 6.13% on Friday. The state reported only five Covid deaths — three from Bengaluru Urban and one each from Tumakuru and Uttara Kannada. The state's recovery rate too improved from 98.30% on October 1 to 98.34% on October 8, marking the highest.

Apart from Bengaluru Urban, Mysuru reported a high number of cases at 53.

COVID BYTES

Covid-19 guidelines extended till October 25

BENGALURU: The State Government has extended till 6 am on October 25 the guidelines on Covid surveillance, containment and caution, across the state. The daily cases and the overall number of patients in the state are declining steadily, but there is a need to have continued focus on the five-fold strategy of test-track-treat-vaccinate and adherence to Covid-appropriate behaviour to prevent any potential rise during the ensuing festive season. Strict surveillance at border posts set up in the districts adjoining Kerala and Maharashtra shall continue as per the prevailing circular/guidelines. ENS

BBMP workers demolish a four-storey building which collapsed in Doctors' Layout in Kasturi Nagar in Bengaluru, on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

IN THE HIGH COURT

Notice issued to govt, Lokayukta over bank plea

Bengaluru: The Karnataka High Court issued notice to the Department of Cooperation and Karnataka Lokayukta on the petition filed by Muslim Cooperative Bank Limited from Mysuru and two others on Friday. A division bench headed by PS Dinesh Kumar issued notice to the state government and Lokayukta, based on the petitioners alleging that the Karnataka Lokayukta Act has no jurisdiction over them. The petition contended that there is no share capital invested by the state government in the bank as of now, and they do not have any interest to invoke the provisions of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act.

MBBS students can write missed exams

Bengaluru: Justice R Devda of the Karnataka High Court passed the order to permit MBBS students who missed exams by the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS) due to COVID or other reasons, to write the examination. The state government has sought the advice of the TAC, which in turn advised that the examination can go on but with the condition that the medical students arriving from Kerala should be asymptomatic, have a negative RT-PCR test, and should remain for seven days under self-quarantine, medical supervision and strictly follow Covid norms.

Police nab owner of collapsed building

BBMP, fire personnel demolish residential complex in Kasturi Nagar for violation of building norms

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

RAMAMURTHYNAGAR police on Friday arrested Ayesha Baig (52), the building owner of a residential complex that collapsed in Kasturi Nagar on Thursday evening. Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and fire officials supervised the demolition of the collapsed building on Friday.

A senior police officer told the New Indian Express that Baig, a resident of Doddabanaswadi sold three out of the four houses to the builder, and kept one home for her family. BBMP officials conducted an investigation that indicated a clear violation by building two additional floors illegally in 2013, as well as poor construction quality.

"We have taken Baig to police custody for further interrogation and will arrest more people including the constructor, and the engineer soon", said the official. In the third such incident in two weeks, the four-storeyed complex at Doctors layout in Kasturi Nagar collapsed, causing panic among residents.

No casualties were reported, and three tenants, Ambarish Pandey, Ankush Agarwal, and Sanjana Pawate were rescued by fire and emergency personnel.

NIA court convicts 3 in 2016 Mysuru blast case

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE NIA special court, Bengaluru has convicted three Al Qaeda Base Movement terrorists in the Mysuru court blast case on Friday. As per the NIA, the accused have been convicted for the August 1, 2016 bomb blast in a public toilet of a court premise in Chamarajapuram, Mysuru City. The accused - Nainar Abbas Ali alias Library Abbas, M Samsun Karim Raja alias Karim alias Abdul Karim, and Dawood Sulaiman are from Tamil Nadu. The court has convicted the three accused under concerned sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC), Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA), Explosives Substances, and Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act. The quantum of punishment against the convicted accused persons will be pronounced on October 11.

The bomb blast in Mysuru court, according to NIA, was one among five blasts committed by members of the Base Movement, an organisation that pledges its allegiance to Al Qaeda. The NIA had filed a charge sheet against the trio on May 24, 2017, and the trial in the case was concluded on September 29, 2021.

Kerala's Covid toll to jump by 7,000

Deaths, previously excluded for various reasons, to be added after Opposition raises issue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ T'Puram

THE number of Covid deaths in the state is set to jump by 7,000, as the government has decided to include the deaths previously excluded for various reasons. This will take the death toll to 33,000 from the existing 25,952 deaths reported till October 7.

The announcement was made by Health Minister Veena George in the Assembly when the opposition demanded an adjournment motion to discuss the under-reporting of deaths and a weak pandemic strategy of the government, on Friday. They later boycotted the assembly to protest against denying the adjournment motion.

The health minister said the exclusion of around 7,000 deaths could be a lack of supporting documents.

These deaths have happened in the 14 months since the first Covid death in the state in March 2020 to June 2021 when the department introduced a better reporting system. "There was no deliberate attempt to exclude the deaths from the list. The process of registration was done based on the guidelines of ICMR. The department took the initiative to include the excluded cases in the list," said Veena.

She reiterated that the government had an open approach in updating Covid death list.

The minister had announced that the department would publish the updated list in three days in the last assembly session. PC Vishnunadh MLA, who moved the adjournment motion and later the leader of opposition, VD Satheesan pointed out the delay on the part of the minister. They also pointed out that the under-counting would be much more than previously estimated considering the documents accessed through Right to Information and media report.

Vishnunadh demanded that the government provide compensation considering the socio-economic status of the victims and it should be over and above the compensation ordered by the Supreme Court. He suggested that the money received by the government through vaccine challenge should be utilised to compensate the kin of victims. Satheesan blamed the government for under-reporting deaths for improving its image.

10 nabbed in B'gavi youth murder case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

AS many as 10 people, including the President of Khanapur taluk unit of Sri Ram Sena Hindustan, Pundalik alias Maharaj Mutgekar have been arrested by the Belagavi district police for allegedly murdering a 24-year-old Muslim man for having an inter-faith relationship. Cases have been filed against the accused under IPC Sections 302, 201, 341, 120, 384, 388, and 149.

The victim, Arbaaz Mulla was brutally killed for being romantically involved with a Hindu girl from Khanapur. The police recovered his decapitated body last week from the railway tracks in Khanapur. The violent killing has shocked residents from the Belagavi region who for decades have lived peacefully in communal harmony.

Superintendent of Police, Laxman Nimbargi told The New Indian Express, "It's not clear if the other accused are part of Sri Ram Sena Hindustan, since they have no identity proof that connects them to the right-wing outfit." He added, "The parents of the girl from Khanapur had entered into a deal with the arrested group to get Arbaaz killed. As to how much money changed hands is yet to be ascertained. The ongoing investigation into the case is certain to help us get more information about the incidents that unfolded prior to the murder."

TEEN INJURED IN MISFIRE DIES

Mangaluru: A 16-year-old Sudheendra Prabhu, who was critically injured in a misfire when his businessman father opened fire on two workers, at Morgan's Gate in city on Tuesday, succumbed on Friday at 5 am. After post-mortem at District Wenlock Hospital, the body was handed over to his family which conducted the last rites in the evening. The boy's father Rajesh Prabhu, who was arrested and produced before a court on Thursday, was allowed to participate in the last rites.

70K watch Dasara events virtually

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

A day after former chief minister S M Krishna, who was the state guest to open Dasara festivities, urged the state government to plan a tourism circuit, District Minister ST Somashekar said the government will start working on the same soon after the Navaratri festivities.

He said they would speak with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in this regard. Recalling that the CM has assured of coming out with international tourist circuit and to start work on film city, he said the latter has assured funds for expansion of the runway which will act as a catalyst to tourism sector revival.

Somashekar said the Technical Advisory Committee had permitted entry for 500 people for Dasara functions, but the crowd was less than 200 due to the apprehensions over the third wave of the pandemic. However, over 70,000 watched Dasara cultural programmes virtually.

He said there is no question of allowing more than 500 for Jamboos Savari and the decision of TAC will remain unchanged.

Asked about I-T raids, Somashekar said the I-T raids have nothing to do with former chief minister B S Yediyurappa. He said the I-T department is doing its job and raids are not targeted at Yediyurappa.

Cloves from Kanniyakumari now get GI tag

M ABDUL RABI @ Nagercoil

CLOVE, valued for its culinary use and medicinal properties, is one of the prominent spice crop cultivated at Maramalai, Karumparai, Vellimalai, and other hills in the Western Ghats of Kanniyakumari district. Accounting for almost 65 per cent of the State's total production, these cloves are the latest locally-grown agricultural produce to receive the Geographical Identification (GI) tag.

About 760 hectares of area in the district cultivate cloves, and represent about 73 per cent of cultivation area in the whole of Tamil Nadu, said District Collector M Arvind. Of the total 1,100 MT of clove production in India, TN produces close to 1,000 MT; about 670-750 MT of this comes from Kanniyakumari district. The collector attributes efforts by the Maramalai Planters' Association and Blackrock Hill Planters' Association, with support from the district administration for the GI tag.

"We had been trying to get the GI tag for about seven to eight years now," said P Lalaji, secretary of Blackrock (Karumparai) Hill Planters' Association. Both, the Central and State governments should give subsidy to clove farmers here, he added.

"The climate in the hilly regions is ideal for clove cultivation. Both the southwest and northeast monsoons and the sea mist adds to the benefits," said M Subramanian, secretary of Maramalai Planters' Association. He noted the cloves produced here have an increased concentration of oil, which gives it a unique aroma and flavour.

While the typical volatile oil content is about 18 per cent in cloves, here it ranges between 19 to 21 per cent.

Guest lecturers to be retained for this year

Bengaluru: The state government has decided to continue the services of guest lecturers, who had worked last year in various universities, said Dr CN Ashwath Narayan, Minister for Higher Education on Friday. This comes after the state's decision to implement NEP for higher education was criticised by many due to the lack of lecturers. ENS

Two others suffer minor injuries

THE police said the three had gone to Tavarekere in the morning to a relative's house and were returning home when the accident occurred at 10.40 am as they were passing by Madhava Hospital in Chikkagollarahatti. Ahran was trying to avoid the pothole when he lost control of the scooter and all the three fell on the road. The speeding truck ran over Nubia, who was sitting in the back.

"Nubia was killed on the spot, while the injured were rushed to a hospital, where they were treated as outpatients. The vehicles involved in the accident have been seized," the police said. The Madanayakanahalli police booked the truck driver, PWD and panchayat officials as accused.

Second death in 3 days at the same spot

C Krishnappa, a 57-year-old sub-inspector with the excise department, died at the same spot on Wednesday afternoon. He too was trying to avoid the killer pothole, when a truck ran over him.

Blame game starts over teenager's death

Soon after the death of 17-year-old Nubia at Kachohalli Cross on Magadi Road, the blame game among different civic agencies started.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) zonal officials from RR Nagar rushed to the spot immediately after the accident and were quick to issue a statement that as the area is beyond the Nandi Infrastructure Corridor Enterprise (NICE) Road, it did not fall under their jurisdiction. They said it came under the Public Works Department (PWD).

But PWD officials, in turn, blamed the panchayat, saying they had handed over the stretch from NICE Road near Magadi Road till Tavarekere to the Karnataka State Highway Improvement Project (K-SHIP).

In their defence, K-SHIP officials said, "We have started works 3 km ahead of the accident spot. There are no potholes on the stretch. The trio slipped towards the slushy side of the road and that was when the untoward incident happened."

None, however, spoke about how such deaths can be prevented in future.

AIR INDIA SALE SIGNALS CENTRE'S COMMITMENT TOWARDS REFORMS

Air India's 20-year steeplechase to find itself a worthy suitor has ended. On Friday, the government declared Tata Group as the winning bidder, ending the national carrier's jilted bride status once and forever. This is also the country's first strategic privatisation in decades and renews India's attempts at being a market economy in spirit and substance. The nation gives thanks. Privatisation is the lifeblood of a market economy and the Air India-Tata deal sends firm signals to investors about the government's commitment to reforms and confirms privatisation of other loss-making entities like BSNL and MTNL.

It's amply clear that nationalisation, whether it's banks or airlines, has left entities battered or bankrupt. Air India has been in an existential despair despite a ₹1.1 lakh crore whip-round from taxpayers since 2009. It was operationally inefficient and suffered in silence against private competition, racking up losses of over ₹62,000 crore. Both for the NDA's sake (which promised privatisation) and the country's, selling Air India shifted from a policy option to a bare necessity. For years, governments have been cutting the air carrier a cheque as if they were unavoidable grocery bills. They aren't. With privatisation, such obligations will cease and taxpayers don't have to chip in a dime.

Agreed, Tata's $2.4 billion bid is less buck and more whiz-bang, but until recently, few were hopeful of a deal. The sale gives a personal boost to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, indicates the government's determination and also helps meet the FY22 disinvestment target, which had collected not one red cent. It reinforces the momentum of privatisation in contentious sectors including petroleum, insurance, railways and shipping. But above all, one of the notable aspects was the government's willingness to go the distance and sweeten the pot for potential buyers such as hiving off losses to other entities, changing valuation norms, promising to indemnify buyers against contingent liabilities and payment of certain contentious employee dues. Continuity of such an approach will help us avoid hanging on to our loss-making PSUs and save the nation from further economic ruin.

RBI'S CALIBRATED EXIT TO TIGHTEN LIQUIDITY

Effective monetary policy isn't just about the right policy rates, but also having adequate system liquidity. Over the past 18 months, the RBI did well keeping rates low and providing ample liquidity. But with growth recovering, market watchers believe it's about time the central bank starts formulating its exit strategy. On Friday, Governor Shaktikanta Das did announce a rollback of the Covid-19 emergency measures, particularly winding down the G-SAP programme through which the RBI injects liquidity by buying government bonds. It also announced 14-day Variable Rate Reverse Repo (VRRR) auctions to absorb surplus funds, but this amounts to liquidity management and not actual liquidity tightening.

One of the downsides of surplus liquidity includes stickiness in overnight money market rates, which ideally must be closer to the operative policy rate to ensure that inter-market lending and borrowing remain smooth. Some fear that despite Friday's VRRR auctions, it's unlikely that the short end, or overnight rates, will inch closer to the policy rate—currently reverse repo—set at 3.35%. But as the RBI had demonstrated last month, even 7/14-day VRRR auctions can influence short end rates, not just to reverse repo but all the way up to repo rate that's now held at 4%. Fair enough. But this too amounts to redistribution and repricing of liquidity and not durable absorption, unless the RBI undertakes 28/56-day VRRR auctions.

Some of the other direct liquidity tightening tools that the central bank has includes cash management bills, market stabilisation schemes, cash reserve ratio hikes and forex swaps. But for now, it is placing its bets on natural stabilisers like increase in credit offtake and expansion of currency in circulation. Until now, surplus liquidity has failed to percolate across the curve and having ₹12-13 lakh crore excess liquidity simply isn't warranted or desirable. At least one MPC member has been vocal about the unease due to extraordinary liquidity and skewed overnight market rates. With growth recovery on track, the RBI must calibrate an exit strategy including raising the reverse repo rate next February, if not in December.

AUKUS adds another layer of deterrence against China. The group is likely to strengthen the military dimension, contrary to the belief that it undercuts Quad

CAN QUAD AND AUKUS SYNERGISE?

PINAK RANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

Former Ambassador and Secretary in MEA, and Visiting Fellow at the ORF, Delhi

After the chaotic and humiliating withdrawal from Afghanistan, Washington made the stunning AUKUS announcement, which was followed by the Quad in-person summit in Washington. AUKUS proposes to equip Australia with submarines powered by nuclear propulsion. The US has shared this technology with only one country so far: the UK. The day after the summit, the US sprung another surprise by concluding a deal with China. Meng Wanzhou—the Chinese heiress and daughter of Huawei's founder and CEO Ren Zhengfei, a former PLA officer who made Huawei a telecom giant—was released from Canadian custody. Meng was accused of violating some laws and held in detention in Canada since 2018, at the request of the US.

China reciprocated by releasing two Canadians, detained on dubious charges, as part of its hostage diplomacy. Huawei, a Chinese state-backed company, has made its mission to capture global telecom networks and Meng was spearheading it. Like the BRI, China's aggressive push to dominate network infrastructure via Huawei created global suspicion that the PLA was using these telecom networks for technical espionage. Coming in quick succession, these events helped mitigate the growing concern about US retreat into isolationism and shunning global responsibilities.

AUKUS, the Quad summit and the release of Meng from detention are separate but interlinked strands in the growing geopolitical and geo-economic flux churning the Indo-Pacific. If her release was a concession, then AUKUS was a poke in the eye for China. Both Quad and AUKUS are responses to China's aggressive expansionist policies in the economic and military sectors, making the Indo-Pacific the primary arena for global strategic competition and adaptation. While the pandemic had dampened global strategic initiatives, its waning has coalesced opinion in many nations about putting restraints on China. The WHO has formed a new group to reopen the enquiry into the origin of the coronavirus. China will not be amused.

Expectedly, AUKUS angered France, which lost a multi-billion-dollar contract to build conventional submarines for Australia. But France remains supportive of Quad. India's reaction to AUKUS was measured but China's negative reaction was a clear indication of its discomfiture. India has put some distance between Quad and AUKUS due to her long-standing policy of not joining military alliances.

AUKUS adds another layer of deterrence against China. By attempting to delink Quad from AUKUS, India is also signalling to China that she is keeping her options open on joining military alliances targeting Beijing. India is still having the option of normalising ties with China. Quad suits India and AUKUS gives space to a potential expansion and the military alliance may include Japan at some stage. AUKUS creates another group among traditional allies and Australia acquiring nuclear-propelled submarines will not breach its commitment as a signatory of the NPT and gives it deterrent capability against China's expanding naval power.

The post-Summit "spirit of the Quad" joint statement largely concentrates on global issues like vaccines for Covid, climate change, infrastructure, cyberspace, supply chains, and cooperation in space and emerging technologies. Quad has been low-key in the security domain but this dimension is clear when the statement says "we recommit to our partnership, and to a region that is a bedrock of our shared security and prosperity—a free and open Indo-Pacific, which is also inclusive and resilient". The Quad statement recommitments members to "promoting the free, open, rules-based order, rooted in international law and undaunted by coercion, to bolster security and prosperity in the Indo-Pacific and beyond".

The statement specifically mentions the East and South China Seas in the context of maintaining a rules-based maritime order and collaboration in promoting maritime security. The security dimension is unmistakable. Reading between the lines one cannot miss the subtext that refers to China and this has spurred strategic observers to de-

China now finds that Quad will not disappear like 'sea foam'. The task of balancing China has moved centre stage and India will be an indispensable part of this strategic balancing healthcare by lawmakers throughout the world, more so in low- and middle-income countries, it remains a utopian pipe dream rather than reality. Poor mental health is still a more stigmatised cousin of the more readily accepted physical ill health.

People, policymakers, celebrities, etc., are more at ease discussing their poor sugar control and aberrant cardiac rhythms than baring their hearts on the insidious bouts of anxiety or depression, lest it makes them feel feeble-minded compared to others. The issue of mental health thus suffers not only engendered inequality but crippling ignominy as well. There are far more debates and discourses on minor physical health issues than all the serious mental illnesses combined. The outreach to the audiences and the space generated in news and print media is far more

The theme for this year's World Mental Health Day, observed on October 10, is 'Mental Health in an Unequal World'. Let's work together to strengthen society as a whole so that the barriers of social inequality, injustice and stigma are scaled and those who require help the most receive it for seasonal allergies than depression or schizophrenia.

Even from the piddling amount received from the government for the country's expenditure on its population's health, the outlay for mental illnesses remains too paltry. It's also not that the developed nations are faring much better at dealing with issues of mental health in comparison to the poorer countries. Compiled data from around the world suggests that even in high-income countries, about 75% of the people with mental health disorders do not get proper care. The figure for the low- and middle-income countries jumps up a notch; about 75-90% of the mentally ill receive inadequate or no help for their condition. The National Mental Health Survey (NMHS) 2015-16 shows a treatment gap of 85% (that is out of every 100 people living with mental illness, only 15 receive the required care). Considering our population, this is disturbing.

The figures will become more disturbing when we take into account the less fortunate and denounced, such as the racial and ethnic minorities, the LGBTQIA+ community, the socio-economically impoverished, older people, etc. Furthermore, the Covid-19 pandemic has widened the gulf of inequality and laid bare the ineptitude of the system that fails those who need it the most.

Against this grim reality, we do significantly in the last decade. Russia has world-class expertise in nuclear-propelled submarines; it may find opportunities to sell them to nations like India that have been operating nuclear-propelled submarines leased from Moscow. In the worst-case scenario, Russia and China may team up to form a maritime coalition against AUKUS.

Quad has finally emerged out of hibernation and near irrelevance. The moot point is to find synergy between Quad, AUKUS, EU's Indo-Pacific Strategy and also ASEAN. The business of strategic balancing in the Indo-Pacific is now being scripted seriously. The US has clearly set its sights on the goal of balancing China. Though France has been deeply angered by AUKUS, she will not abandon her Indo-Pacific strategic interests. Other European nations will eventually follow the American lead. China now finds that Quad will not disappear like "sea foam". The task of balancing China has moved centre stage and India will be an indispensable part of this strategic balancing. Other Asian nations will have to face the dilemma of choice and face the inevitable undermining of ASEAN centrality. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that Japan and India join AUKUS in future and that the former might also deploy nuclear-propelled submarines. In the extreme scenario, both Australia and Japan may walk out of the NPT and acquire nuclear weapons. The ball is in China's court. The Indo-Pacific great game has begun and it is going to be a long one.

BRIDGING THE DIVIDE IN MENTAL HEALTHCARE

The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much; it is whether we provide enough for those who have little." - Franklin D Roosevelt

The great thing about an aphorism is that it stands the test of time and categories. The one above may have been spoken of keeping the socioeconomic divide in society in mind, but it rings equally true when discussing the glaring inequality that runs across the realm of mental and general healthcare in the current era. The quote, "We are all in this together", that resonated globally during the pandemic was more wishful thinking than reality.

The society as we know and understand is divided into a multitude of groups, all seemingly rigidly bound. The barriers of federalism, caste, ethnicity, socio-economics, religion, etc., have fostered a sense of pervasive inequality and mutual spitefulness towards each other, pitting one neighbour against the other in a perpetual battle of one-upmanship. But the iron curtain of class division is not without its stark holes, through which many human artifices and infirmities find their way across to the other side. Humanity, which is divided by arbitrary fences, finds solace in the universality of suffering—both mental and physical. There's no wall fortified enough to prevent the permeation of sadness, longing, despair, alienation, insomnia and melancholy, all of which are the building blocks of mental health issues in the society at large.

As mental health professionals, when we ask anyone what they understand by mental health, most look at it through the lens of a disorder-free state but rarely as a need to ensure one's mental well-being. The practice of mental health is still fraught with stigma, misinformation and isolation from society. Death due to suicides and people living with mental illnesses are sensationalised in popular media.

This year, the World Mental Health Day (October 10) is observing "Mental Health in an Unequal World" as its theme, declared by the World Federation for Mental Health (WFMH). There's no denying the fact that in spite of all the ostentatious promises of universal

Lakhimpur violence

Citizens welcome the SC's intervention into the Lakhimpur violence and hope that the perpetrators will be arrested soon. However, the prime minister and the Union home minister appear as if the nation is peaceful. Also, they have not condemned the act. Whatever be the ugly politics behind this, both the Central and state governments seem to be lethargic on the law-and-order front. Is it not shameful to celebrate the long political tenure of the PM in the current scenario?

Preliminary enquiry in graft cases not must: SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday held that preliminary enquiry (PE) the Central Bureau of Investigation in cases of corruption was not mandatory.

"...In case the information received by the CBI, through a complaint or a 'source information' under Chapter 8 (of CBI manual), discloses the commission of a cognizable offence, it can directly register a Regular Case instead of conducting a Preliminary Enquiry, where the officer is satisfied that the information discloses the commission of a cognizable offence," a bench of Justices DY Chandrachud, Vikram Nath and BV Nagarathna ruled.

An FIR will not stand vitiated because a PE has not been conducted, the court stated and clarified that if the CBI chooses not to hold a PE, the accused cannot demand it as a matter of right.

In this case, an FIR in a disproportionate assets case was quashed by Telangana High Court observing that the CBI should have conducted a PE under the Central Bureau of Investigation (Crime) Manual 2005 before registration of the FIR. The SC bench set aside the High Court judgment and held that the CBI can continue with its investigation based upon the FIR.

The court observed that they do not mandate that a PE must be conducted before the registration of an FIR. Referring to CBI manual, the court noted that a PE is registered when information (received from a complaint or source information) after verification indicates serious misconduct on part of a public servant but is not enough to justify the registration of Regular Case.

'Vaccine hesitancy still a problem in remote areas'

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

WAITING for others to get the Covid-19 vaccine first and fear of any adverse effects may still be putting a significant chunk of the population in India away from the vaccines, the first ever analysis on vaccine hesitancy in the country has shown.

Though no concrete data on the percentage of people choosing to forgo vaccines is available, it has been estimated that in remote and rural areas, up to 10% people may be sceptical.

The analysis by the doctors attached with the Tata Memorial Centre in Mumbai said that distrust in the safety of recently approved vaccines, fear of adverse effects, and rumours concerning infertility and death as a result of the Covid-19 vaccine, among other causes, are fuelling hesitancy.

The authors noted that according to the Covid symptoms survey conducted in India, the top five reasons provided for not getting vaccinated included: waiting for others to get it first (42%), other individuals need it more than me (35%), fear of any adverse effect 34%, vaccines will not work (21%) and disbelief in the vaccine.

The researchers said that vaccine hesitancy is becoming a problem with very few possible solutions. Noting that the initiation of the CoWIN registration portal has significantly enhanced the vaccination campaign, they said that based on the reported statistics, vaccine hesitancy is rampant in remote areas and regions.

Pointing out that the lowering the cost of the vaccine for college students can be a beneficial way to reduce vaccine hesitancy, the researchers said that the government's COV-ID-19 vaccination communication strategy has significant operational and structural flaws in its current form.

"The second wave of infections disrupted capacity-building for communication management at the national, state, district, and sub-district levels," said the paper.

Citing an international survey, the analysis said that vaccine acceptance rates were the highest in low and middle-income countries such as Ecuador (97.0%), Malaysia (94.3%), Indonesia (93.3%) and China (91.3%). On the other hand, high-income countries such as Kuwait (23.6%), Jordan (28.4%), Italy (53.7%), Russia (54.9%), Poland (56.3%), USA (56.9%), and France (58.9%) had the lowest acceptance rates.

Government authorities say the vaccine hesitancy in India may be coming down with most of the available vaccines "proving their safety profile".

Jaishankar talks to UK counterpart on travel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after the UK said that it would waive mandatory quarantine for fully vaccinated Indian nationals arriving in the country, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Friday held a telephonic conversation with his British counterpart Liz Truss where the leaders agreed to facilitate travel between the two countries.

"Good to talk to UK Foreign Secretary @trusslizz. Agreed to facilitate travel between our two countries. This will help to implement the Roadmap 2030," the minister tweeted.

The UK on Thursday revised its guidelines to exempt fully vaccinated Indian nationals from the mandatory 10-day quarantine upon arrival.

"Forty-seven countries and territories including India would be off the (red) list from 4Monday. The government extends inbound vaccinated arrivals system to a further 37 countries and territories across the globe including India, South Africa and Turkey, meaning eligible vaccinated passengers arriving only need to take a day 2 test," a UK government statement said.

The move came after India imposed reciprocal measures on UK nationals.

Kishor takes jibe at Cong leadership

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

FOR all the talk about Prashant Kishor joining the Congress anytime soon, the election strategist on Thursday had this caution delivered to the Grand Old Party: those expecting the party's revival following the Lakhimpur Kheri incident are setting themselves up for a big disappointment.

The cautionary note carried an undercurrent of plain-speak that referred to "deep-rooted and structural problems" within the party. The strategist's remark came out in a tweet after his long spell of silence: "People looking for a quick, spontaneous revival of GOP-led opposition based on Lakhimpur incident are setting themselves up for a big disappointment".

Then came his stark warning. "Unfortunately, there are no quick fix solutions to the party's deep-rooted problems."

Kishor's tweet surprised many as it came amid speculation over his getting close to the Gandhis. The buzz was that he could join the party ahead of the 2024 general election or even sooner on the eve of the UP assembly polls. Congress sources told this paper that Kishor's induction was indeed discussed within the party, but "some factors" had slowed down the final decision. Senior party leader Veerappa Moily is learned to have favoured his induction, but those who disagreed with Moily cited Kishore's "style of working"

that could cause problems.

When asked about Kishor's tweet, senior party leader Ran-deep Singh Surjewala said he did not wish to make any comment on the "consultant."

Sources said Kishor wants some functional autonomy for removing the party's "deep-rooted problems" and "structural weakness" as one of the conditions.

The party wanted Kishor to work for the upcoming UP assembly elections, but he has reportedly refused citing "shortage of available time".

Political observers say Kishor's tweet is an indication that things are not yet settled between him and the party leadership. Asked for elaboration, Kishor asked this reporter to share questions on email through his office.

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

UNION minister Ajay Mishra Teni's son Ashish did not show up for questioning in connection with the Lakhimpur Kheri violence before the crime branch on Friday, after which the Uttar Pradesh Police pasted a second notice at Mishra's residence in the district. Ashish has now been asked to present himself before the police probe panel at Lakhimpur police lines at 11 am on Saturday.

Ashish ignored the summon notice pasted at his residence by the police on Thursday in which he had been asked to present himself for questioning at 10 am on Friday. Ajay Mishra said his son failed to turn up for questioning due to health reasons and "will report tomorrow." He was talking to media persons at Lucknow airport while coming from Delhi.

Rejecting the reports that Ashish has gone into hiding along with one of his aides Ankit Das and had been changing locations, Mishra claimed his son was at home in Lakhimpur. "Our government is investigating the matter without any bias. Action will be taken against the accused," he said, and accused the Opposition of indulging in negative politics over the issue.

The second notice from the UP Police came hours after the Supreme Court expressed anguish over the probe being conducted by the state.

Police sources had on Friday morning claimed that Ashish had absconded. Initially, his location was found to be in Nepal followed by Uttarakhand.

The summons pasted on the residence of Mishra was issued by a six-member committee headed by the additional superintendent of police. The panel has been set up to investigate two cases registered in connection with the violence. While in one case, Ashish and 15-20 unidentified persons have been charged with murder and criminal conspiracy, the second FIR was lodged by a local resident against unidentified miscreants who had allegedly beaten to death four persons.

Sidhu goes on silence fast in Lakhimpur

Punjab Congress president Navjot Singh Sidhu, who was stopped at Saharanpur on Thursday, finally visited Lakhimpur Kheri on Friday and met the families of the victims. "Justice Delayed - Justice Denied ... With family of brave heart Lovepreet Singh (20), victim of brutal murders by Union Minister's son," he tweeted and shared photos of the meeting. "There is evidence, video... witness account is there. But arrest is not being made because he (Ashish Kumar Mishra) is a Union minister's son," Sidhu said. He later sat on a 'maun vrat' at the residence of deceased journalist Raman Kashyap and refused on budge till the accused were arrested. SAD leader Harsimrat Kaur Badal also met the families of Raman and the four farmers who were killed.

No action under pressure, says Yogi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

BREAKING his silence on the Lakhimpur Kheri violence on Friday, Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath assured action against the guilty, be it a minister, MLA or any other high and mighty. He claimed that his government was probing the case thoroughly and slammed Opposition leaders for rushing to Lakhimpur on "political tourism".

Speaking at an event in Gorakhpur, Yogi called the incident 'sad and unfortunate'. "There is no place for violence in a democracy. The law is equal for all," he asserted.

Speaking on the slow pace of arrests in the case, he said, "We are taking action keeping the Supreme Court ruling in mind that before arresting someone, we should have sufficient evidence against him."

Yogi assured that "there will be no injustice with anyone" but at the same time made it clear that "no action will be taken under any pressure". "We will not arrest anyone on allegations. But yes, if someone is guilty, he will also not be spared irrespective of who he is," he stressed.

The CM claimed that probe was underway and his government would go to the bottom of the conspiracy to trigger violence. "Real culprits will soon be brought to books," he said.

Claiming the Lakhimpur violence to be a deep-rooted conspiracy to pitch the Hindu and Sikh communities against each other, Yogi said the investigations would expose the real faces behind the incident.

Lashing out at the opposition leaders making a beeline to Lakhimpur, he said, "They are indulging in political tourism today. Where were they during Covid times?"

Referring to his Chhattisgarh and Punjab counterparts who came along with Rahul Gandhi, the UP CM said, "They are not able to handle their states but want to come to Lakhimpur. Punjab CM is not even able to decide on his DGP... Chhattisgarh CM is unable to control his state. Some farmers were killed in their own state but they did not do anything."

Haryana CM retracts remark

Chandigarh: Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar on Friday withdrew his "tit-for-tat" statement allegedly made against the protesting farmers saying it was "misconstrued". "I had not made those remarks with any ill-intention. I had said it as a reason for self-defence... I would like to tell my farmer brothers that I withdraw that statement because I do not want the law and order situation in Haryana to be disrupted," Khattar said. "Everyone has a right to hold protest in a peaceful manner but the only thing is that no one should cross the limit. No one should be harmed; vehicles should not be damaged," he added. Khattar also said that he would not be attending a programme in Kaithal as farmers had objected to his visit.

Priyanka picks up broom again

Lucknow: Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi Vadra on Friday visited a Dalit hamlet here and picked up a broom to clean it, reacting to UP CM Yogi Adityanath's dig at her move to sweep floor at a Sitapur guesthouse during her detention. Replying to a question on Priyanka's act during her detention, Yogi said at a media event in Gorakhpur, "People wanted to make them (Congress leaders) worth doing that and that's what they have made them." Taking umbrage to his remark, Priyanka told people at Luvkush Nagar, "He has not humiliated me... he has humiliated you all as crores of Dalit brothers and sisters are safai karamcharis... I've come here to do cleaning along with you and let Yogi Ji know that using a broom is a self-respecting task."

BJP plans centralised poll management in UP; ministers to take charge

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

THE BJP is bracing for a centralised management of the upcoming Uttar Pradesh assembly elections, with scores of ministers being roped in to take charges of the districts for sharp micro-management amid the assessment that the party will be up against another Opposition grand alliance.

In addition to the panel headed by the Union minister Dharmendra Pradhan who is the election in-charge, the BJP is gearing up to field its full battery of ministers to take poll responsibilities in UP, which is slated to go to polls in February-March next year. The ministers who have already been roped in for poll tasks in UP have begun travelling to parts of the states to identify the issues on which the BJP will need to build poll narrative along with its counter strategy against the agenda being brought forth by the Opposition parties, said a leader.

Mildful that the outcome of the UP elections will set the course of the national politics, which will also be watched out by some political parties to forge prospective alliances in future, the BJP will seek to build a suitable narrative in

UP to overwhelm the identity politics, said another leader.

To shore up its electoral chances, the BJP is also bracing up to bring in political workers, known for their election management credentials, from other states, including Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, Bihar and Maharashtra, to man each polling booth in the 403 assembly constituencies.

"Such political workers will directly report to the central team in Delhi to share real-time feedback on which expeditious actions will be initiated," added the party leader.

After the festive season, the BJP leaders, including ministers, will regularly camp in various parts of UP. The Union ministers belonging to UP, along with Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha MPs, will be taking charge of each district.

A few of the ministers who have returned after initial visits to parts of the state have listed out some of the issues, which the BJP will need to address. These include issues like unemployment in Poorvanchal, farmers not able to fetch the Minimum Support Prices, and early signs of loosening of consolidation of the non-Yadav other backward castes in favour of the party.

Nadda to visit Manipur for review of poll prep

New Delhi: BJP chief J P Nadda will start his visits to poll-bound states from Manipur where he will take stock of the preparations for the assembly elections next year this weekend. He will be on a two-day visit to Manipur starting Saturday. During his visit, Nadda will take part in some key programmes and will guide the BJP state unit leaders and workers on various issues, said Rajya Sabha MP Anil Baluni. The BJP chief will visit a booth president's residence at Utluou (Nambol mandal) and have lunch at his residence, said Baluni.

Killings aimed at denting 'normalcy' claim?

Experts feel militant outfits could be trying to send out a message ahead of Amit Shah's visit to J&K this month

The aim of these attacks is to drive a wedge between the communities and to try and drive these communities out of Kashmir. We cannot let these attacks succeed, and therefore, I am making an earnest appeal to all of them to not consider leaving from here

Omar Abdullah, NC

It may seem invisible but migration is going on and I was anticipating this. Such developments are noticed much these days due to social media, and we are aware of who all have left. We had requested appointment from the L-G's office in June, but have not been given time

Sanjay Tiku, Pandit organisation

Neither demonetisation nor the removal of Article 370 has contributed to improving the security situation in J-K. In fact, some recent decisions of the J-K administration have only served to heighten differences between the communities that otherwise were living peacefully

MD Tarigami, Gupkar Alliance

Even until yesterday, the security grid in J&K was completely immersed in organising normalcy picnic tours & horse riding for visiting ministers. Perhaps these attacks could have been averted if their sole focus wasn't these ministerial visits & normalcy acrobatics

SANA SHAKIL @ New Delhi

THE recent spike in attacks on non-Muslim civilians in Kashmir Valley could be an attempt by militant outfits to puncture the central government's claim of restoring normalcy in Jammu and Kashmir, feel some senior officials.

According to sources in intelligence agencies, the terrorists have plans to carry out more civilian killings in Jammu and Kashmir, targeting more members of the minority communities living in Anantnag and Kulgam regions. "There are specific inputs about the possibility of targeted killings in around 10 colonies where non-Muslims have a sizeable population," a senior intelligence official told this newspaper.

The official added that the intel was generated on Friday, a day after two government teachers were shot dead in downtown Srinagar.

Latest intel suggests that terrorists want to send a message of "no normalcy" in Jammu

MORE THAN 300 DETAINED

The local police have detained over 300 people for questioning in the case of civilian killings. Many more are expected to be detained and questioned over the course of next one week and Kashmir ahead of Union Home Minister Amit Shah's scheduled visit to the Valley this month, another top security official said.

With these attacks, the official said, terrorists wanted to puncture the narrative of the Centre that abrogation of Article 370 had led to "revival of normalcy, boosted tourism and full integration of J&K with rest of India", and instead create an atmosphere of fear and insecurity, particularly among the minority communities.

Meanwhile, an analysis of government data reveals that more people from minority communities have been killed by militants in J&K this year compared to last year, though the total number of civilians killed in the UT this year is fewer than the number of civilians killed in 2019 and 2020 (as on October 5 for all years).

The data, analysed by this newspaper, comes amid widespread panic among minorities in the Valley over the spate of targeted killings over the last one week. Many Kashmiri Pandits have reportedly fled the Valley while many more are in the process of leaving their homes.

As of October 5 this year, as many as 29 civilians have been killed in the newly carved UT. Of these, five were non-Muslims. Last year till October 5, as many as 37 civilians, including three non-Muslims were killed in terror incidents. The year 2019, when the erstwhile state was split into two union territories and its special status revoked, saw a higher number of civilian casualties during the corresponding period. Thirty four Muslims and six non-Muslims lost lives to terror attacks till October 5, 2019.

'Attempt to recreate early 1990 situation'

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

SECURITY experts are sensing a shift in the pattern of militant violence in Jammu and Kashmir as four non-Muslim civilians have been gunned down in the Valley in the last five days. They feel the militants are aiming to create fear among minority communities and recreate the situation of early 1990s in Kashmir.

"Yes, there is a pattern in the violence. It is to create panic and gain relevance on the part of militant organisations functioning under the ISI's umbrella," Lt Gen (Retd) Syed Ata Hasnain told this newspaper.

He said the militants' outfits could be aiming to recreate the situation of the early 1990s, whereby political Islam could be brought to bear through the purging of minorities. "It may have succeeded then to an extent but we are far stronger today to not fall prey to the designs of our adversaries," said Lt Gen Hasnain, who had also served as GoC of Army's Srinagar-based 15 Corps.

Retired J&K police chief S P Vaid said militants kept on changing their plans. "First they were targeting BJP leaders and now they are targeting minority community members. They want to spread fear and terror," he said.

Vaid said there was a clear change in the pattern of violence as militants wanted to prevent their own casualties by avoiding direct confrontation with security personnel and targeting soft targets. The former police chief said killings would continue till the militant group involved in such killings was neutralised.

Inspector General of Police (IGP) Kashmir Vijay Kumar said due to the killing of large number of militants, their handlers across got frustrated and changed their strategy. "In all such cases, militants have been using pistols. These acts are committed by newly recruited militants or those who are about to join militant rank."

NO BAIL TO ARYAN KHAN, OTHER ACCUSED

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

A court here on Friday rejected the bail applications of Bollywood star Shah Rukh Khan's son Aryan Khan, and two others — Arbaaz Merchant and Munmun Dhamecha — accused in the case of drug abuse aboard a cruise ship off Mumbai coast.

Additional Metropolitan Magistrate RM Nilekar observed that the bail pleas of Aryan Khan and the two others were not maintainable. On Thursday, the court had rejected the plea of NCB to extend the custody of the accused and sent them to 14 days of judicial custody.

Additional Solicitor General (ASG) Anil Singh appearing for the Narcotic Control Bureau (NCB) strongly opposed the bail pleas on the ground of maintainability in drug cases. He argued that the offences against the accused are exclusively triable by a special court of sessions under the NDPS Act and not by a magisterial court.

Advocate Satish Maneshinde appearing for Khan argued there had been no recovery from Khan and that the rigours of bail under Section 37 of the NDPS Act would not apply to him.

The ASG however alleged that WhatsApp chats between Khan and another accused — supplier Aachit Kumar — referred to "bulk quantities of the drug".

A advocate Maneshinde argued that Khan was not accused of consumption, which is punishable under Section 27 of the NDPS Act. "Thus, the embargo on grant of bail under Section 37 of the Act will not apply. There is no material, even in messages."

Slain teachers cremated, protests across J&K

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Srinagar

THE family members and relatives of the slain school principal, who along with another teacher was gunned down by militants in a school in Srinagar on Thursday, staged a silent sit-in demanding justice outside the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar on Friday. Similar protests were held across J&K against the targeting of minority communities.

The body of the slain principal was cremated in Batamalo in the presence of large number of Sikhs and a number of Muslims. Hundreds of people also attended the cremation of slain teacher Deepak Chand in Jammu on the same day.

NC vice president and former CM Omar Abdullah visited the residence of the slain principal and said these attacks were aimed to create a wedge between the communities and push them out of Kashmir.

"The attackers are trying to ensure another exodus. I appeal to the minority community not to allow a repeat of 1990s and not to leave your homes out of fear," he said.

PDP chief and former CM Mehbooba Mufti also visited the slain principal's residence. "It was very painful to see the two little kids of the slain principal. What was their fault," she said. Taking a dig at the Centre, she alleged that the wrong policies adopted by it after August 5, 2019 were directly responsible for the fast deteriorating situation in Kashmir.

The Gupkar Alliance also blamed the Centre for the prevailing situation in J&K. "This is the result of failure of the policies of the Centre," said spokesman of Gupkar Alliance, Mohammad Yousuf Tarigami.

CBI PROBE

Dera chief pronounced guilty of killing follower

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A special CBI court on Friday found Dera Sacha Sauda chief Gurmeet Ram Rahim Singh and four others guilty on the charge of murdering his follower Ranjit Singh in 2002. The quantum of punishment will be pronounced on October 12.

The verdict was pronounced by CBI Special Judge Sushil Garg in Panikula.

The Dera chief is the main accused in the case. The other accused are Krishan Lal, Jasbir Singh, Avtar Singh and Sabdil.

Another accused Inder Sain had died in October 2020.

Ranjit Singh was a staunch follower of Gurmeet Ram Rahim Singh. He was murdered on July 10, 2002. As per the charge-sheet filed by the CBI, Ram Rahim had suspected that Singh had circulated an anonymous letter among the Dera followers which allegedly accused him of sexually exploiting women followers. This was the same letter which Sirsa-based journalist Ram Chander Chhatrapati highlighted in his news report.

Tripura Congress deserters float new party

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

A group of Congress deserters in Tripura have floated a new party — Tripura Democratic Front (TDF) — in the BJP-ruled northeast state. The development comes amid efforts of Trinamool Congress to poach disgruntled leaders of other parties in the state which will be going to polls in 2023.

However, this section of the Congress deserters — former state president Pijush Kanti Biswas, vice president Tapas Dey, general secretary Tajen Das, Youth Congress state president Pujan Biswas and several others — chose to float the TDF instead of joining the TMC.

DEVELOPMENT AMID TMC POACHING BID

Trinamool Congress has been trying to poach disgruntled leaders of other parties in Tripura which will be going to assembly polls in 2023. The party has been actively working in Tripura since July this year

Two weeks ago, Congress president Sonia Gandhi had overhauled the party's Tripura organisation by replacing Pijush Kanti Biswas, a well-known lawyer, with former minister Birajit Sinha. Five others were appointed as working presidents.

The decision left Biswas and leaders close to him enraged and compelling them to desert the party. One of the newly-appointed working presidents, Purnita Chakma, too joined the TDF. Prof Manik Deb, another Congress working president, is likely to join the TDF soon. The TDF is likely to have an understanding with a conglomerate of tribal-based parties in the 2023 polls.

Biswas, who had been associated with the Congress for over half a century, said the TDF was floated in the "greater interest" of the people and the state. He criticised the All India Congress Committee for failing to read the ground situation.

"There is factionalism in the Congress but the party's central leadership never tried to address the issue. We found it very difficult to work for the people," he said.

The seasoned politician Dey, who served the Congress for 60 years, said people who believed in democracy and wanted the state to progress in all spheres, would soon join the TDF.

Earlier, another batch of Congress leaders, led by Subal Bhowmik, had defected to the TMC. Many other Congress leaders are said to be in touch with the TMC.

Mega cleanliness, de-weeding drive at Dal Lake

Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha launched a mega cleanliness and de-weeding drive of world famous Dal Lake in Srinagar on the occasion of Gandhi Jayanti on October 2. About 1,000 boats and 2,000 individuals would be employed in the mega cleanliness and de-weeding of the lake. The drive would continue for a fortnight. The Lakes and Waterways Development Authority (LAWDA) is the nodal agency for implementing the cleaning drive. Lt Governor Sinha said some de-weeding machines were operational in the lake but the administration would hire more machines to clean the waterbody.

SRINAGAR DIARY

Retd engineers to be hired for executing RDD works

The Jammu and Kashmir government has ordered hiring of retired engineers on contract basis for execution of works in the Rural Development and Panchayati Raj department. The contractual engagement of retired engineers would be made after inviting applications from eligible candidates. The period of contract would be for one year, which would be further extended in case of satisfactory performance and requirement. According to the official order issued by Principal Secretary (Rural Development and Panchayati), Raj Bipul Pathak, contractual engagements are liable to be terminated by the competent authority without assigning any reason, whatsoever, at any time. "The contractual engagement shall not confer any right or claim or to any regularisation or continuation of service," he said.

660 grievances of migrants redressed

The administration has resolved about 660 grievances related to Kashmiri migrant properties in Srinagar so far. The government last month launched a portal for redressal of grievances related to Kashmiri migrants' immovable properties. The application filed on the portal shall be disposed of in a fixed time frame under the Public Services Guarantee Act, 2011 by the revenue authorities. Deputy Commissioner of Srinagar, Mohammad Ali Azad said of the 660 grievances received by the district administration, 390 grievances alleging alienation by fraud or distress sale were resolved.

160 students of NIT get campus placement offers

Over 160 students of the National Institute of Technology (NIT) Srinagar got job offers from 35 companies in the campus placement season of 2021-22. The minimum annual CTC (cost to the company) package offered to these students is 8.5 lakh. All the selected students are from the seventh-semester batch and the recruitment process is still going on. The placement drive was started in mid-July and 35 companies held virtual interviews with the aspirants. Officials said the NIT would also hold an online placement season. Despite the outbreak of Covid-19 last year, more than 250 students got job offers in the placement as over 135 companies conducted interviews.

People carry a dead body after a suicide attack on a mosque in Kunduz province in northern Afghanistan on Friday | AFP

55 die as suicide bomber targets Shia mosque in Af

Dozens more wounded in deadliest attack since the withdrawal of US troops

KABUL

A suicide bomb attack on worshippers at a Shiite mosque in the Afghan city of Kunduz killed at least 55 people Friday, in the bloodiest assault since US forces left the country. Scores more victims from the minority community were wounded in the blast, which the Islamic State claimed and appears designed to further destabilise Afghanistan in the wake of the Taliban takeover.

The extremist Islamic State group, bitter rivals of the Taliban, has repeatedly targeted Shiites in a bid to stir up sectarian violence in Sunni-majority Afghanistan. A medical source at the Kunduz Provincial Hospital said that 35 dead and more than 55 wounded had been taken there, while Doctors Without Borders hospital said 20 were dead and scores more wounded.

Matuallah Rohani, director of culture and information in Kunduz for Afghanistan's new Taliban government, confirmed that the deadly incident was a suicide attack and that 46 people had died and 143 were wounded. Taliban spokesman Zabihullah Mujahid had earlier said "an explosion took place in a mosque of our Shiite compatriots" in Kunduz. Residents of Kunduz, the capital of a province of the same name, told journalists the blast hit a Shiite mosque during Friday prayers, the most important of the week for Muslims.

Zalmi Alokzai, a local businessman who rushed to Kunduz Provincial Hospital to check whether doctors needed blood donations, described horrific scenes. "Ambulances were going back to the incident scene to carry the dead," he said.

An international aid worker at the MSF hospital in the city told AFP there were fears the death toll could rise even further. "Hundreds of people are gathered at the main gate of the hospital and crying for their relatives but armed Taliban guys are trying to prevent gatherings in case another explosion is planned," he said. Graphic images shared on social media, which could not immediately be verified, showed several bloodied bodies lying on the floor. Pictures showed plumes of smoke rising into the air over Kunduz. A female teacher in Kunduz told reporters the blast happened near her house, and several of her neighbours were killed. "It was a very terrifying incident," she said.

"Many of our neighbours have been killed and wounded. A 16-year-old neighbour was killed. They couldn't find half of his body. Another neighbour who was 24 was killed." Another video showed men herding people, including women and children, away from the scene. AFP

NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

Shock & awe as journalists who speak truth to power get peace Nobel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

A Nobel prize isn't something you normally associate with hard-nosed journalists who break stories and speak truth to power at risk to their lives. So when word got out that gritty Maria Ressa and Dmitry Muratov, journalists whose work angered the rulers of the Philippines and Russia, were awarded the Nobel Peace Prize, there was a collective gasp of surprise in the media.

For, the last time a journalist got the prize was 86 years ago. German Carl von Ossietzky won it in 1935 for outing his nation's secret post-war rearmament programme.

This year's award to Ressa and Muratov was in recognition for their courageous fight for freedom of expression, Chairwoman Berit Reiss-Andersen of the Norwegian Nobel committee said. "At the same time, they are representatives of all journalists who stand up for this ideal in a world in which democracy and freedom of the press face increasingly adverse conditions," she added. "Free, independent and fact-based journalism serves to protect against abuse of power, lies and war propaganda."

Muratov (59) dedicated his award to six contributors to his newspaper, Novaya Gazeta, who had been murdered for their work exposing human rights violations and corruption in Russia. Despite the shock honour, the Kremlin congratulated Muratov.

Ressa (58) faced years of litigation in the Philippines as the Rappler website she co-founded in 2012 carried critical reports on President Rodrigo Duterte. Rappler is known for its incisive investigative reporting, including bloody police drives against the drug mafia. "We're going through a dark time, a difficult time, but I think that we hold the line," she said after learning about the award. She was among the journalists named in the Time Magazine Person of the Year in 2018 for fighting media intimidation. The Nobel Peace Prize will be presented on December 10.

She annoyed Duterte, got 10 arrest warrants

MANILA

VETERAN Philippine journalist Maria Ressa, who was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize on Friday, has become a symbol of the fight for press freedom in an era of strongmen leaders.

The former CNN bureau chief set up news website Rappler in 2012, bringing together multimedia reporting and social media to offer an edgy take on Philippine current events and a critical eye on the government of President Rodrigo Duterte. Ressa and Rappler have faced multiple criminal charges and investigations after publishing stories critical of the firebrand leader and his bloody drug war.

Her reporting has unleashed what media advocates say is a grinding series of criminal charges, two arrests and a deluge of online threats against her and Rappler.

The website has had to fight for survival as Duterte's government has accused it of violating a constitutional ban on foreign ownership in securing funding, as well as libel and tax evasion.

Duterte has attacked Rappler by name, calling it a "fake news outlet", over a story about one of his closest aides. "I'm not a sole reporter," Ressa told AFP in an interview last year. "My job is to hold up the ceiling, it has been for a while... so that our folks can continue working." The most recent case saw a second libel charge against Ressa dismissed in August. Another libel charge against her was dismissed in June. "In less than two years the Philippine government filed 10 arrest warrants against me—it was pretty bleak at different times," Ressa said. Nonetheless, she was defiant in her defence of her battle for freedom of expression and independent journalism. AFP

One of few journos with guts to take on Kremlin

MOSCOW

NEWSPAPER Novaya Gazeta, whose editor-in-chief Dmitry Muratov won the Nobel Peace Prize on Friday, is a bastion of independent media in Russia with a commitment to free speech that has cost some of its journalists their lives. Co-founded by former Soviet leader and another Nobel Peace laureate Mikhail Gorbachev in 1993, Novaya Gazeta is one of the few media outlets left voicing criticism of Russian President Putin. "I can't take credit for this. This is Novaya Gazeta's," Muratov, 59, told Russian news agency TASS, saying the award was for "those who died defending people's right to freedom of speech".

The award comes with independent media under increasing pressure in Russia. Several outlets were forced to close this year and some prominent journalists fled the country. It also came just a day after Novaya Gazeta marked the 15th anniversary of the killing of its best-known journalist, Anna Politkovskaya.

Politkovskaya, a critic of Putin and the Kremlin's wars in Chechnya, was shot dead on October 7, 2006, in the entrance hall of her apartment building. In an interview with AFP in March, Muratov said the newspaper's reporters knew their work put their lives at risk, but that unlike some other Kremlin critics they would not go into exile. "This newspaper is dangerous for people's lives," Muratov said. "We will live and work in Russia." Grey-bearded and round-faced, Muratov has been one of Russia's most prominent independent journalists for decades. Kremlin critics say authorities are waging a campaign against independent and critical media, with many branded foreign agents and others forced to shut down. AFP

Tata will have to retain all AI employees for one year

VRS will be offered if anyone is to be removed after a year, says govt

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE winning bidder Tata Group will have to retain all employees for at least a year.

The government on Friday asserted that employees' interest has been protected and the new owner will have to offer VRS to those who will be terminated after one year.

Aviation secretary Rajiv Bansal said that all the concerns of the employees have been taken care of. "The winning bidder will retain all employees, which means they will not retrench anybody for a period of one year."

The official said that if anybody is to be retrenched or removed thereafter, they will be offered a VRS (voluntary retirement scheme).

Tata Sons has emerged as the successful bidder for national carrier Air India, the government announced on Friday.

The employees will be provided gratuity benefits and provident fund benefits as per the law of the land. Post-retirement medical benefits for those who have retired or will retire in future will be protected, Bansal added.

Air India has a total of 12,085 employees comprising 8,084 permanent and 4,001 contractual staff. Its subsidiary Air India Express has 1,434 employees. Nearly 5,000 employees will retire from the airline during the next five years. The retired employees will continue to get the medical benefits as per the rules. Nearly 55,000 retired staff are associated with Air India.

Air India pilot associations Indian pilot Guild welcomed the development and said, "IPG is proud that Air India is an airline founded by India's first licensed pilot and that the airline is going back to the Tata Group. We look forward to being a part of the Tata family." Air India employee associations, earlier, had raised the issue of retirement and other benefits before the government.

Picture tweeted by Ratan Tata shows JRD Tata coming out of an Air India plane

Ratan Tata tweets a warm welcome for Air India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

"WELCOME Back, Air India," said Tata Sons chairman emeritus Ratan Tata minutes after the salt-to-steel conglomerate was chosen as the successful bidder for Air India, the airline which Bharat Ratna JRD Tata had founded in early 1930s but was nationalised in 1953.

Ratan Tata tweeted an old photograph of JRD getting down from an Air India aircraft and said, "On an emotional note, Air India, under the leadership of Mr JRD Tata had, at one time, gained the reputation of being one of the most prestigious airlines in the world. Tatas will have the opportunity of regaining the image and reputation it enjoyed in earlier years. Mr JRD Tata would have been overjoyed if he was in our midst today."

Air India was very close to JRD as it was his first big adventure in business that was born of his childhood fascination for flying. In 1929, JRD became one of the first Indians to be granted a commercial pilot's licence. A year later, a proposal landed at the Tata headquarters to start an airmail service that would connect Bombay, Ahmedabad and Karachi.

Thus in 1932 Tata Aviation Service, the forerunner to Tata Airlines and Air India, took to the skies. Tata himself flew its first single-engine de Havilland Puss Moth, carrying air mail from Karachi's Drigh Road Aerodrome to Bombay's Juhu aerodrome and later continuing to Madras.

Ratan Tata, an aviator himself, was the driving force in the group's re-entry into the airline space with Air-Asia India and Vistaar. While it is surely one of the biggest and most emotional achievements for the Group to re-acquire Air India, it will be a Herculean task to turn around this debt-laden Maharaja.

Tatas will have the opportunity of regaining the image and reputation it enjoyed in earlier years. Mr JRD Tata would have been overjoyed if he was in our midst today

India wants renegotiation of FTA with ASEAN bloc

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COMMERCE and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal on Friday said that there is a need to re-negotiate the existing free trade agreement with 10-member ASEAN bloc and to eliminate barriers and misuse of the FTA.

"I think there is a need for renegotiating the existing trade relationship, trade barriers, re-looking at our FTA with ASEAN and focusing on new rules to eliminate the misuse of the FTA, eliminating non-tariff barriers, and that can ultimately lead to building confidence on both the sides to reduce tariffs for inter-Asian and India trade," Goyal said.

He was speaking at CII's Indo-ASEAN Business Summit.

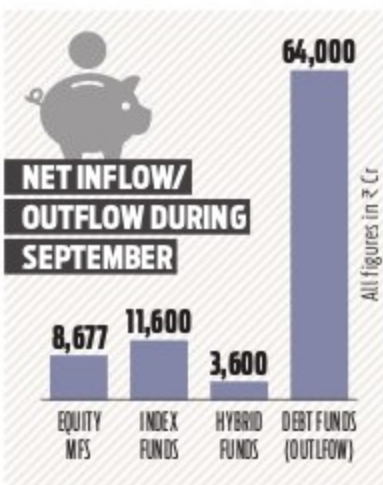

"India has currently been witnessing exponential growth in imports from the ASEAN region while our exports have been impeded by non-reciprocity in FTA concessions, NTBs, import regulations, quotas and export taxes from ASEAN countries. Such a review will enable alignment with contemporary trade practices, procedures and regulatory harmonisation," Goyal said.

Monthly SIP investments breach ₹10,000 crore

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

RETAIL investors are riding the equity market bull-run, and it seems they are doing so with the help of mutual funds. Data released by industry body - Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) - shows that monthly investments in mutual funds through Systematic Investment Plan (SIP) reached ₹10,351 crore in September.

This is the first time the monthly SIP contribution breached ₹10,000-crore mark. Total asset under management (AUM) collected through SIPs has reached ₹5.45 lakh crore, which is almost a third of the total retail AUMs of ₹17.72 lakh crore. The industry asset under management (AUM) at the end of September reached ₹36.74 lakh crore.

In September, 26.80 lakh new SIP accounts were registered taking the total SIP accounts to 4.5 crore. A year ago, SIP accounts stood at 3.34 crore.

NS Venkatesh, Chief Executive, AMFI, said: "Mutual Fund monthly SIP contribution breaching ₹10,000 crore milestone for the first time ever and industry AUMs touching all time high at ₹36.74 lakh crore is historic, and is reflective of continued retail investor confidence in the mutual funds."

He attributed this rise in SIP to retail investors preferring mutual funds over low-yielding traditional savings avenue like bank FDs, and also gold and real estate.

Category-wise, equity and equity-oriented mutual funds saw a net inflow of ₹8,677 crore, index funds saw net inflow of ₹11,600 crore and hybrid schemes saw net inflow of ₹3,600 crore. However, debt funds witnessed a massive net outflow of ₹64,000 crore during the month. This resulted in an overall net outflow of ₹47,250 crore in September.

Aashwin Dugal, Co-chief business officer, Nippon India Mutual Fund, says that the net outflows in the industry led by debt category was partly due to a section of institutional investors who exit MFs at the end of every quarter.

According to him, a few institutional investors might have redeemed from short to medium debt funds ahead of RBI's Monetary Policy announcements.

He, however, feels that these flows are expected to come back over the course of the quarter once bond markets get a direction post policy announcement.

Told govt fuel tax cut can rein in inflation, says Das

ENS @ New Delhi

ALARMED by the steep rise in petrol and diesel prices, which is adding to inflationary pressures, RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday nudged the Centre to cut fuel tax. "Ef-orts to contain cost-push pressures through a calibrated reversal of the indirect taxes on fuel could contribute to a more sustained lowering of inflation and an anchoring of inflation expectations," he said.

Noting that fuel tax is something the Centre has to act upon, Das said RBI is constant touch with government. "On the petrol and diesel front, we have flagged the issue... now it is for the government to consider all the aspects and take a decision beyond that I have nothing to add," he added.

After a near three-week halt, fuel prices are now going up in tandem with the rise in Brent crude prices. Prices of fuel touched fresh highs on Friday after they were increased for the fourth consecutive day.

Chargesheet filed against Rana Kapoor, Thapar

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has filed a chargesheet against the then managing director & CEO of Yes Bank Ltd - Rana Kapoor - and his wife Bindu Kapoor in a loan fraud case also involving promoter of Avantha Group Gautam Thapar.

The chargesheet was filed in the Court of Special Judge for CBI cases, Mumbai. The probe agency had filed a case in this regard in March 2020.

According to the chargesheet, Rana Kapoor, as MD and CEO of Yes Bank, had abused his official position and acquired a property in a posh Delhi location at prices lower than the actual market value.

The property was mortgaged to Yes Bank Ltd against a loan of ₹400 crore given to Avantha group promoted by Gautam Thapar. The actual value of the property, according to the chargesheet, was ₹550 crore, which was acquired by Rana Kapoor for a mere ₹378 crore.

The chargesheet further alleges that Gautam Kapoor did not use the amount received from the sale of property to fully liquidate the loan, which was later declared a non-performing asset by the bank.

The property was allegedly purchased in the name Bliss Abode Pvt Ltd, where Bindu Kapoor was the director and authorised signatory.

The probe agency has alleged that Yes Bank extended further loans of ₹1,360 crore to other companies promoted by Gautam Thapar after the Kapoors acquired the said property from Thapar.

It has also been alleged that these loans were never utilised for the purpose for which they were given and the borrowers were allowed to divert the funds for evergreening of the existing loans of the group companies.

Both Rana Kapoor and Gautam Thapar have been facing multiple charges of frauds and are being probed by multiple agencies including the Enforcement Directorate.

Rana Kapoor is also probed for his involvement in the PMC Bank fraud case.

any existing proceedings can continue against either of the two Srei Group companies. The two firms cannot transfer, encumber, alienate or dispose off any of their assets or any legal right or beneficial interest therein during the moratorium period.

On Monday the RBI had superseded the board of directors of Srei Infrastructure Finance Ltd and Srei Equipment Finance Limited over governance issue and defaults. It had also appointed a panel to advise the administrator of SIFL and SEFL.

The members of the advisory panel include R Subramaniakumar, former MD & CEO, Indian Overseas Bank, TT Srinivasaraghavan, former Managing Director, Sundaram Finance, and Farokh N Subedar, former COO and Company Secretary, Tata Sons Limited.

Rajneesh Sharma, ex-Chief General Manager, Bank of Baroda, has been appointed as the administrator.

TCS reports PAT of ₹9,624 crore; to hire 35,000 graduates in six months

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IT behemoth Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) on Friday reported a consolidated net profit of ₹9,624 crore for the quarter ending September 30, 2021 (Q2FY22), an increase of 14.1% year-on-year. Its consolidated revenue during the July-September period stood at ₹46,867 crore, up 16.8% over a year-ago quarter.

This strong growth came on the double-digit growth across all sectors on YoY basis, said the company. Manufacturing vertical with 21.7% YoY growth, life sciences and healthcare with 19% growth, retail and CPG segment with 18.4% and BFSI with 17% growth supported the topline. Among others, communications & media vertical registered a 15.6% YoY growth, and technology & services grew by 14.8% in Q2FY22, said the company.

On a sequential basis, TCS's

profit grew 6.8% and the revenue rose by 3.2% in Q2FY22.

"The strong and sustained demand environment is a once-in-a-decade opportunity to position ourselves as the preferred growth and transformation partner for our customers," said Rajesh Gopinathan, CEO and MD.

The company also announced a second interim dividend of ₹7 per share, which will be paid to shareholders on November 3 this year.

TCS said that it added five new clients in the $100 million plus category, taking the total to 54 now, and there was addition of 17 new clients in the $50 million plus band where it now has 114 clients.

TCS said it has had the highest ever intake of freshers in a six-month period. It expects to hire another 35,000 in the next six months. However, the company's attrition rate has increased to 11.9% in Jul-Sept from 8.60% in April-June.

Brokerage firm Angel One said that the demand environment is expected to remain strong which bodes well for the company and the entire IT sector. "Overall the company reported numbers which were below street estimates for the quarter and the markets will now look forward to the Infosys numbers," it added.

Smartphone brand realme launches 100 new stores

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SMARTPHONE brand realme on Friday announced a new milestone with the launch of 100 new exclusive stores across India. The stores, which are operational from Friday, will have the latest products from the realme TechLife ecosystem, including smartphones, laptops, tablets, and other gadgets, the company informed in a statement.

"2021 is the defining year for realme and offline expansion is significant to it. To bring consumers up close and personal with realme products and help them understand the nuances, realme has focused on offline expansion into Tier II and Tier III cities," the company said, adding, it will also open its flagship store in Gujarat. The smartphone company has set a target to unveil 300 realme exclusive stores by 2021 and expand it to 1000+ stores by 2022, it said.

With economy on recovery curve, RBI begins squeezing out money

SUNITHA NATTI

ON Friday, the Reserve Bank of India's Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) kept policy rates and stance unchanged but the key takeaway was about liquidity normalisation. That's because the MPC's job ends with policy rate decisions, but the central bank's job begins soon after. Liquidity management is the operating procedure of monetary policy, and ensuring adequate liquidity - neither deficit nor surplus - is critical.

Currently, we have surplus liquidity of ₹12-13 lakh crore with nowhere to go. For now, RBI is absorbing ₹4-6 lakh crore paying interest to banks in overnight, weekly and fortnight windows.

The key here is the interest rate. Usually, banks park surplus funds with RBI at fixed rate reverse repo, currently set at 3.35%. But to encourage banks, RBI has begun variable rate reverse repo auctions, as overnight rates, or the short end rates, remained sticky due to liquidity glut. Following the 7- and 14-day auctions, rates are now closer to the operative policy rate of 3.35%.

But RBI cannot go on paying banks, and system liquidity cannot remain in surplus forever.

THE next step is to flushing out surpluses. With growth recovery, perhaps, Das hopes credit growth will pick up and given the festive season, demand for cash also goes up. This in turn will lower bank's reliance on RBI to park their surpluses.

Crucially, RBI kept the room open even for a 28 day variable rate reverse repo auction, which if happens amounts to liquidity tightening. The central bank could also consider a reverse repo hike, though this shouldn't be read as step towards repo rate hikes. Markets were also looking for cues as to when RBI may signal raising the reverse repo rate, which will narrow the gap between the repo and reverse repo rate. In ordinary course, the fixed rate reverse repo is usually set 25 bps below the policy repo rate. By this measure, reverse repo corridor is wider by at least 40 bps given that repo is held at 4%.

This decision about liquidity management, as Das noted, wasn't unilateral but was decided after a thorough dialogue with market participants and policy watchers, which appears to be the US Fed equivalence of 'talking about talking about' tapering. And as Das noted, the entire approach will be 'one of gradualism' as 'we are approaching the shores we do not want to rock the boat... as there's a journey beyond the shores.'

Surya & Ishan help team post best IPL score but SRH ensure KKR qualify for play-offs

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

MUMBAI Indians' skipper Rohit Sharma looked a bit nervous at the toss on Friday, rightly so. For a start, it was a must-win toss, where they had to bat first against Sunrisers Hyderabad in Abu Dhabi to even have the slightest of chances to make it to the play-offs. The toss went his way and with a smile, Sharma said "we are going to bat first, no choice." The equation was not straightforward — they had to win the match by over 170 runs.

Mumbai found themselves in a precarious situation, primarily due to their poor show in the UAE leg, losing four of their last six matches. But this game provided an opportunity for their batsmen to be counted and they did. If Ishan Kishan provided a platform with a 32-ball 84, Suryakumar Yadav laid the finishing touches with his 82. They scored 235/9.

However, despite it being MI's highest ever score in their history, it just was too little too late as Hyderabad had no hiccups in crossing the 65 they needed to ensure Kolkata Knight Riders would finish in fourth place in the table. Mumbai got a consolation win as SRH finished at 193/8 in their 20 overs.

Even if it was ultimately a disappointing outcome for Mumbai, Suryakumar's and Kishan's innings would have brought a smile on the faces of the many Indian fans. They are crucial components of the World Cup squad but they haven't been at their best in the UAE leg. That changed in 90 minutes.

RCB beat Delhi in thriller

It was a unique day in IPL history with Royal Challengers Bangalore and Delhi Capitals playing a game simultaneously in Dubai. It was for the first time that two matches started at the same time. With both teams having secured qualification, they knew about the importance of heading into the playoffs with a win.

RCB won with a superb six by Srikanth Bharat, who hit 78 off 52 balls, in the final ball of the match with seven wickets to spare. This win will give Bangalore immense confidence as Delhi have been one of the consistent teams in the league. In fact, Bangalore bounced back from a difficult situation while they were chasing 165 runs to win. They got off to a worst possible start with Virat Kohli and Devdutt Padikkal back in the dugout inside the first three overs. However, Glenn Maxwell (51 n.o.), AB de Villiers (26) and Bharat delivered to ensure they emerge victorious. Earlier, Mohammad Siraj scalped two wickets as Delhi scored 164/5.

Brief scores: MI 235/9 in 20 overs (Kishan 84m Suryakumar 82, Holder 4/52) bt SRH 193/8 in 20 overs (Pandey 69 n.o.); DC 164/5 in 20 overs (Dhawan 43, Shaw 48, Hetmyer 29, Siraj 2/25) lost to RCB 166/3 in 20 overs (Bharat 78 n.o., Maxwell 51 n.o.).
Play-off schedule: October 10: Delhi Capitals vs Chennai Super Kings; October 11: Royal Challengers vs Kolkata Knight Riders

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

SINCE 2014, wrestler Sarita Mor had participated in every World Championships except the 2017 edition. With the 2020 Worlds being called off due to the pandemic, the ongoing championships in Oslo, Norway was Sarita's sixth appearance wherein she finally ended her medal drought by bagging 59kg bronze on Thursday.

So what kept the Haryana wrestler going despite returning empty-handed five times in the last seven years? "The results might not show but most of the time I lost close bouts. Those defeats also highlighted the mistakes I have been committing. I kept working on those mistakes and finally managed to finish on the podium after seven years," Sarita, who is two-time Asian Champion (2020 and 2021), told this daily from Paris airport on Friday afternoon. The women's team, which is flying back to the country, had a layover in France and is expected to reach India on Friday night. Given the experience she had, Sarita and her husband Rahul Mann were expecting gold. However, the 26-year-old wrestler lost the semifinal before winning the bronze play-off. "She was inconsolable after the loss. But she was still in medal contention and I advised her to focus on the bronze bout," said husband Mann. A wrestler himself, Mann had stopped participating to ensure

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @ New Delhi

JUAN Ferrando took over the reins at FC Goa in April last year and under his stewardship, the team has continued to play an attractive style of football. They narrowly lost out in the ISL play-offs via a penalty shootout but followed it up with a remarkable display at the AFC Champions League where they accrued three points during the group stages. Silverware followed at the recently-concluded Durand Cup, where they clinched the 130th edition. Having been in India for almost a year-and-a-half, the Spaniard is now better placed to answer about the footballing culture in India, his aims ahead of the new ISL season and about youngsters. Excerpts...

Your take on the Durand Cup and what it means for the Indian football calendar considering the number of matches players get?
As I see it, the Durand Cup is a prestigious tournament and a good opportunity to evaluate one's full squad by playing matches before the ISL. Teams can practice different game plans and that is always good for the overall development of players as well as clubs.

Should Cup competitions be made a permanent fixture in the footballing calendar here?

I think each club has to have the option to decide how to best prepare the squad and get ready for the ISL. That is their own prerogative. At FC Goa, we thought it was a good option for us to train our players and compete so they could keep learning.

A number of young stars excelled for your side in the competition. How impressed were you with them and does it improve their chances of making the ISL starting XI?
The most important part is to be patient. They have just now started working with our first team in a professional way. Our aim is that they can participate on a regular basis, but it is a step-by-step process and the best thing for them is to learn from their more experienced teammates.

France completed a come-from-behind win against Belgium to advance to the final of the Nations League against Spain. A look at a few talking points...

MBAPPE DOES MAGIC TURN

One of the last times Kylian Mbappe played for his country, his missed spot-kick cost them a place at the Euros. On Thursday, he was back to his best, creating one as well as scoring from the penalty spot to help team edge 3-2 in a game that went this way and that till the final whistle.

Taking that responsibility at that moment of the match was fantastic. Yes he has a lot of talent but behind that he has a winner's mentality. We're all happy for him.

Pressure games vital for Rani & Co: Schopman

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

THE next time the women's hockey team will play a competitive match, they will have a new chief coach in the dugout. But it's someone they have already built a rapport with. Janneke Schopman, who came in as the side's analytical coach last January, has been promoted after she came back from the US following a short break.

It's never easy for someone new to replace a respected outgoing chief coach. Even if Schopman is a familiar face, the first sort of challenge for her is to lay down her vision on the team. Even if she partly shies away from answering that question — "that's a difficult question, or it's a long answer," is her response — she elaborates a bit on what she expects out of the team going forward. "In short," she says, "my vision is to use the incredible potential that India has in the women's team and become this team that we saw at the Olympics during the latter phase. We can have a combination of hard work, skill, attacking play and defending relentlessly." One thing, though, seems to be a non-negotiable. "Playing till the whistle goes and see where it takes us." It's a phrase she uses several times.

The coach doesn't want the Olympics to become a one-off. "For this team, I think it's more important to play games under pressure in these environments than anything else. We played eight games in the Olympics... this environment of pressure and performance where the world is watching, it's important, it's exciting."

UTTAR PRADESH AN EPITOME OF PEACE, PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY

The Uttar Pradesh government has been setting new milestones of development under the leadership of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath. It has paid special attention to education, health, irrigation, farmers, women safety and empowerment, keeping them at the very core of its priority and policies. Since education plays a key role in shaping the destiny of any society and country, the Yogi government has worked relentlessly to overhaul the educational system, infusing a fresh lease of life into it over the past four and a half years in the state. It has recruited 1.50 lakh teacher and non teaching staff and setting of fundamental reforms in the primary education sector, which was long overdue. In keeping with its avowed objective to provide education with the best possible infrastructure, it has also renovated 1.38 lakh primary schools across the state. As far as higher education is concerned, the Yogi government has established 77 government degree colleges in the state. With a substantial increase in the number of Kasturba Gandhi Girls Schools and considerable improvement in teaching standards, education for girls has also vastly improved. The state government has set up

26 new government polytechnics and 79 ITIs so far. Besides, it has laid the foundation of 8 new universities for studies. In the past 4.5 year, the Yogi government has also taken effective steps to ensure the safety and security of women. Consequently, women do not have any fears in coming out of their homes now. Actually, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath's focussed campaign has gone a long way in the prevention of crimes against women in the state. While the setting up of the Anti-Romeo Squad has led to a massive crackdown against the incidents of molestation, indecency and obscenity against girls and women, Mission Shakti Abhiyan has been launched to ensure the safety, self-reliance and empowerment of women. The impact of both these schemes is quite perceptible now. Not only this, women's help desks have been established at all the 1,535 police stations of the state to check the crimes against women. Altogether 218 fast-track courts have also been constituted for speedy disposal of such cases. To empower women, the Yogi government is not only taking a slew of measures to make them self-reliant but also aware of their fundamental and legal rights. During the tenure of Yogi Adityanath, Uttar Pradesh has also made rapid strides in the agriculture sector. The majority of the people of the state are dependent on farm-related activities. Keeping this in view, the state government has set out to focus on the agriculture sector in general and the condition of the farmers in particular. Its initiative to ensure timely payment of sugarcane prices has brought happiness to the lives of farmers. Since coming to power in 2017, the Yogi government has ensured the payment of sugarcane prices to farmers through an escrow account. It has also set up a toll-free number to help them get their complaints addressed quickly. In keeping with its commitment to bring about a positive change in the lives of the farmers, the Yogi government has also set new records in organic farming. It has launched special campaigns to promote organic farming in 11 districts, especially in the villages located along the banks of river Ganga. It has resulted in a big positive change in the agriculture sector by raising the income of the farmers substantially. The adoption of organic farming with no use of pesticides has also had a salubrious impact on the environment at large. At the same time, it has enhanced agricultural output despite a sharp reduction in cost. While the Yogi government has been supporting traditional agricultural activities, it is also working to connect the farmers with new innovations and scientific techniques to get a better yield of crops. The Sugarcane development department has set out to give a big relief to the farmers by facilitating a proper irrigation system for the farmers for growing crops. It is going to set up drip irrigation plants covering an area of 30,000 hectares under sugarcane cultivation in the fiscal year 2021-22. It will help the farmers increase the yield with less water. The farmers will now need a lesser amount of water for irrigating the sugarcane crop through subsurface drip irrigation technology. With better management of water resources, the income of the farmers is bound to increase manifold. Evidently, the Yogi government has left no stone unturned to make Uttar Pradesh prosperous, educated, and fear-free state through the transformation of key sectors such as education, women's security and empowerment, agriculture and irrigation. It has propelled the State to move faster on the path to all-round development.

Employment opportunities for the youth

The Yogi Adityanath government has provided government jobs to 4.50 lakh youths so far. It has also recruited 3.50 lakh people through contract basis in government sector. The state government is working round the clock to provide employment to as many people as possible. In the previous 15 years, only 2,91,005 people could get government jobs. However, the Yogi government has provided government jobs to 4.50 lakh people so far in just 4.5 year. It is the result of Yogi Adityanath's clear instructions to maintain fairness and transparency of recruitment. UP UNDER YOGI IS AMONG TOP INVESTMENT DESTINATIONS IN THE COUNTRY UTTAR PRADESH, once rated as unfriendly for investments and industries, has emerged as one of the top investment destinations in the country. Commitment and earnest efforts of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath have created a business environment in the state that attracts not only domestic but also foreign investments. CM Yogi's initiatives to create an investor-friendly environment in the state have resulted in investors now finding UP as a state with the most conducive and supportive environment, full of facilities.

- » An amount of more than Rs 2.16 lakh crore provided to more than 82 lakh MSME units, livelihood opportunities generated for more than 2 crore people through this
- » More than 3 lakh employment opportunities generated through large industries
- » 5 lakh youth provided employment through start-ups
- » One crore women connected to 10 lakh SHGs
- » Skill-mapping of more than 40 lakh migrant workers returning from other States has been done and they have been connected with employment opportunities
- » 3.50 lakh people provided employment through contractual appointment
- » Creation of more than 116 crore man days under MNREGA, work generated for 1.50 crore labourers
- » 58,758 women appointed as banking correspondents called Banking Sakhi, training in final stage
- » Launch of Udyam Saarthi app for facilitating self-employment under Mission Rozgar
- » Uttar Pradesh Kaushal Vikas Yojana, Yuva Udyamita Vikas Yojana (Yuva Hub Scheme), UP CM Apprenticeship Promotion Scheme launched
- » Skill on Wheels Programme and Deen Dayal Upadhyay Grameen Kaushal Scheme rolled out. These impart skills related to various vocational sectors to young people.

Mission Shakti 3.0 launched for further empowerment of women

The Uttar Pradesh government launched the third phase of its flagship campaign Mission Shakti on the eve of Raksha Bandhan. The launch was marked by the union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Governor Anandiben Patel and chief minister Yogi Adityanath transferring Rs. 30.12 crore Mukhyamantri Kanya Sumangla Yojana money into the accounts of 1.55 lakh new beneficiary girls. With this, the total number of beneficiaries of this scheme has reached 10.01 lakh. Core of the Mission Shakti campaign is promoting the security, dignity and empowerment of women.

Talking about women empowerment by the Yogi government in UP, Union finance minister Sitharaman highly praised Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath and said: "CM Yogi's energy, hard work and dedication are exemplary." Speaking after the launch of Mission Shakti 3.0, she further said, "When a woman gets encouragement and opportunity, she does not feel shy and hesitant, and once she becomes a part of a task, she gives her best. And, this is the speciality of women."

The Union Finance Minister, the Governor of UP and the Chief Minister also felicitated 75 women from government and non-governmental sectors for their contribution to the first and the second phases of Mission Shakti and then remotely laid the foundation stone for the Veerangana Avantibai Battalion of PAC campus, Badaun. Two more women PAC battalions are being raised in Lucknow and Gorakhpur, soon.

The Governor Anandi Ben Patel in her address said it was time that women started looking for empowerment within. She praised both Modi and Yogi for women empowerment initiatives of their governments.

Praising the Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the chief minister Yogi Adityanath said that Modi ji had given a new direction to every aspect of life, and the safety, well-

- » To empower women, several initiatives including Beti Bachao-Beti Padhao, Janani Suraksha, Varasat Abhiyan, and Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana have been implemented in the state.
- » Banking work and facilities should be made accessible in the village itself by posting any girl child or woman as BC Sakhi in 59,000-gram panchayats.
- » SHGs linked over a crore women with 10 lakh self-help groups. This not only allows them to be self-sufficient but also provides employment opportunities.

Public Distribution System & Self Help Groups

Yogi Adityanath said that under the Public Distribution System, women's self-help groups are being linked to provide ration to 15 crore people. They have also been linked to the nutrition distribution programme. More than one crore women are associated with Self Help Groups in the state, who are working in different walks of life.

Mission Shakti 3.0 schemes

The third phase of the programme will continue till December 31. The main schemes that are scheduled to be implemented in this phases are the launch of Mission Shakti Kaksha (rooms) at all the 58,758 gram panchayat bhawans, formation of one lakh women self-help groups, linking of 1.73 lakh new beneficiaries to the destitute in 2021-22 women pension scheme, safe city project at the divisional headquarters and Gautam Buddha Nagar, posting of women police personnel as beat police officers, construction of pink toilets (for women) in 1,286 police stations, special recruitment for women battalions of Provincial Armed Constabulary (PAC) to 2,982 posts, deployment of women sub-inspectors in urban areas, setting up of creches in all police lines and construction of health clubs in women's colleges.

being, honour and self-reliance of half of the population were being ensured through various schemes initiated by him. He also said that the state government had improved the law and order and allayed the feeling of insecurity among the people of the state. "The government has since the very beginning been sensitive to and committed for the safety, respect, and self-reliance of the women. The first and second phases of Mission Shakti have been completed successfully and now it is being taken forward in the third phase through the coordination of the Home Department, Women Welfare and Child Development Department, and other departments. I firmly believe that with everyone's cooperation, it will prove to be a milestone," he added. Citing women's participation and success in politics as a proof of empowerment, Yogi Adityanath said that in recently held Panchayat polls, 54% seats were won by women. "Earlier, women police personnel never used to be deputed on beat posting (field duty). But now, they are getting and will be getting beat police officers' postings," he pointed out.

BC Sakhis

Elaborating on other efforts undertaken for empowerment of the women, Yogi Adityanath made a mention of banking correspondent (BC) Sakhi scheme. He said that people have to go to banks to operate Jan Dhan accounts. The State Government has decided that banking work and facilities should be made accessible in the village itself by posting a girl child or woman as BC Sakhi in 58,758 gram panchayats.

FASHION FORWARD

WITH the festive season here, Bengalureans are upping their fashion quotient as they sport the latest outfits. After a quiet 2020, they are ready to show off their designer wear which include a pop of colour, contemporary styles and pocket-friendly dresses. Mixing and matching is back in vogue this year, says designer Shiny Alexander, who is creating nine different outfits for each day for her clientele. "Youngsters are opting for lehengas, kurtas and palazzos, all of which have a contemporary look. If the top is an embellished kurta or has mirror work on them, they are pairing it with either nude, white or beige skirts. Styles from the '80s, like crushed and pleated skirts, are back in trend now. Bandini, which we used to wear as dupattas, are now being used as kurtas, lehariya, sarees and even blouses," she says. Working with Sandalwood actors is fashion director Bhargavi Vikyathi. Following the theme of 'Princess Diaries', she has recreated nine looks with nine stars to send across the message of 'women empowerment'. "Actors like Karunya Ram, Sukrutha Wagle and Samyukta Hegde are showcasing the outfits I've designed this year. I've taken inspiration from the erstwhile queens of Karnataka, and tried to incorporate their personalities and characteristics like being brave and bold, their interest in animals, instruments they played, being war heroes or being beauty conscious," says Vikyathi, who is releasing one image each day on her social media, showing the style and the photoshoots with the actors.

Fashion designer Husna Sait of Golden Touch Couture on Commercial Street has had her hands full with orders for colourful skirts and crop tops. "Traditionally, one would wear a chaniya choli but clients now want to reinvent versions of it. So, we've incorporated reflective mirrors and multi-coloured thread work, among other art-work to make the skirts stand out. This can be worn with various crop tops that one probably already has or get them newly made." Millennials, according to Sait, are keen to follow traditional styles but add a touch of their own. "They want similar styles but with different patterns or silhouettes. It could be the use of heavier fabrics or have flowy outlooks," Sait adds.

Colour blocks is another trend people are opting for this festive season. Designer Mayank Modi points out that men too are enjoying this trend. "It could be on a jacket or blazer... three or four colour-block prints are definitely trending. Apart from that, people want pockets as part of their outfits so that they can be comfortable during the festive season," he says. Fusion wear is a style that many find comfortable. This helps them repurpose the outfits for a later occasion. Modi says, "People are unsure when the next celebration might be, so they are being mindful when they are purchasing the outfits this time. With fusion outfits, they can repurpose either the tops or the bottoms with simpler ones and work with them as a mix-and-match option."

SANATH PRASAD

BY two coffee, sambhar dip, one-and-half on metre, bro!, chumma why are you coming?. These popular 'Bengaluru phrases' often make their way into colloquial conversations. But how did these terms come into being? Where are their origins? How has it changed Bengaluru's lifestyle?

These are some of the questions that this online session, What's The Scene Bob?, organised by city-based museum Museum of Art and Photography (MAP) will answer. The event is being held in collaboration with the British Council as part of 'Our Shared Cultural Heritage' programme featuring city-based content creators, Shreyas Rao, Sonu Venugopal and Sriram Sullia. The programme will decode commonly-used phrases, and identify the role they play in the city's culture. It will also explore the origins of these phrases and whether it is specific to a particular age group. Venugopal, a stand-up comic and content creator, believes that migrants have had a great role to play in adding their own styles to conversations. "Words like chumma come from Tamil Nadu, and ra comes from Telugu-speaking states. But they are widely used in conversations. When those from outside of Karnataka attempt to learn the local language, they try to infuse their own style which gives rise to a whole new lingo," says Venugopal, adding that each area in Bengaluru has a distinct lingo. "People in and around Indiranagar and Koramangala use 'bro' and the language has a western touch to it, while in south Bengaluru, Basavanagudi and Jayanagar, words like macha are popular," adds Venugopal.

On the other hand, Shreyas Rao, a stand-up comic, capitalises on the lingo following his observations at public places. "By two coffee is one of my favourite phrases. Bengaluru has this unique style which people from other cities recognise. These terms are home-grown and people connect with them very well. Bengaluru is a place where people celebrate everything even if it is a joke on the linguistic slang," says Rao.

What's The Scene Bob? is taking place on October 9, 6pm. Details: MAP website.

FIT BIT

SUPTA UDARAKARSHANASANA
(LYING ABDOMINAL STRETCH POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'supta' means lying down, 'udara' means abdomen, 'akarshan' means stretch and 'asana' means pose. This pose improves digestion and gives flexibility of the spine. This pose involves abdominal twisting and helps in relieving back pain as well. Practising this pose is a great way to exercise both abdominal and back muscles gently, in the simplest way possible, as it is practised while lying on the floor. It is useful to relieve anxiety and frustrations caused by a hectic schedule.

STEPS

- Relax in Shavasana; take 3-5 deep breaths.
- Bring legs together, arms close to the body with palms facing downward.
- Bend the knees placing the feet as close to your buttocks as possible.
- Bring the arms in line with the shoulders. Elbows and shoulders must remain in contact with the floor throughout.
- Inhale and slowly lower the legs to the right side and place knees on the floor; turn your head to the left. Make sure there is no gap between legs.
- This is the final position, retain it for 5 seconds or less if you feel discomfort. Breathe normally.
- Inhale and slowly bring the legs back in the upright position. Repeat the same procedure on the opposite side. This is one cycle.
- Repeat a minimum of 3 cycles on each side, gradually increasing the time of holding the final position.

BENEFITS

- It twists your spine and vertebrae, thus strengthening them.
- Massages the abdominal organs.
- Relieves constipation, stiffness in spine, hips, lower back, stress and anxiety.
- Calms the mind and gives freshness to the whole body after a stressful day.
- Detoxifies internal organs.
- Improves blood flow to the body.
- Stimulates the spleen, liver and kidneys thereby improving their functioning.
- Makes the hips flexible.

LIMITATIONS

- Remember that legs and head move in the opposite direction while lowering the legs.

From Dilli, With Chole Bhature & Chaat

Housed within simplistic interiors dominated by brick and grunge walls, the brightly lit Gopaljee Cafe in GRA Tower, Bellandur is a favourite among Chole Bhature lovers, especially those who have had a taste of the original from the bylanes of Old Delhi. Keeping the authenticity of the delicacy and the array of chaats, Gopaljee brings out real flavours with a mix of spices; 56 in all that go into the chickpeas masala, sourced from Delhi.

Chole Bhature

Owned by a first generation entrepreneur; the brand which started in February 2020, during the pandemic, has received much adoration from residents, office-goers and college students. "In this short span, we have witnessed a pandemic, have relocated, undergone expansion but one thing that has not changed is our passion and commitment to serve the most authentic flavours of the Indian street food," says Suvigya Bansal, who quit a plum corporate job to pursue her passion of bringing authentic North Indian food to Bengalureans.

Apart from chaats and chole bhature, the menu has lip smacking items like Bedmi poori aloo sabji (Mathura style), stuffed parathas, thali, rice combos, North Indian curries.

Beverages like Sweet lassi, Mango lassi (with dry fruits), Masala buttermilk and desserts (gulab jamun and scrumptious gajar halwa) complete the fare.

They also have freshly prepared and packaged savouries like Mathri and Namakpare made to order.

And this Diwali, to cater to the tastes of gourmets in Koramangala, Gopaljee will be coming up with an outlet in the area.

PANDEMIC OR AN EPIDEMIC?

RUBINATIONS

Rubi Chakravarti

Writer, actor and funny girl

remember a time when a (respected) television journalist put his reputation on the line and proverbially sold his soul to the political devil not unlike Dr Fautus. I distinctly remember being alarmed as his face went red, his silky locks flew in all directions and his hands were outstretched to the heavens as he dramatically yelled, 'Give me, give me, drugs, drugs.' He looked like he was going to have an apoplectic fit and I was so tempted to yell, 'Take a chill pill, brah!'

That is the time I seriously considered including 'being depressed' in my writing and discussions. We had already lost so many people we knew to this condition and still, we compartmentalised it into neat little slots that aid our narrative. The suicide of a particular actor (and the politically motivated backlash, just to change the narrative against the growing unrest at the dismal state of affairs in our country at that time), took up a life of its own very much like the Cardi-V virus growing and mutilating in the process. The actor was a poster boy for unscrupulous jingoists and their mouthpieces. He was a middle-class, educated boy, hailing from a small town who came to try his luck in films like a gazillion other hopefuls. He makes it (sort of) but then he committed suicide like a dozen hopefuls before and after him. What made him so different?

He quasi made it but then started playing with the big fish. He dumped his middle-class girlfriend who faithfully stood by him and cast his aspirational eyes on the PYT'S whose daddies and mommies were established actors and didn't approve of their babies 'mucking' around. Even with the world becoming more politically correct and inclusive, the actual facts may be slightly skewed. There are invisible hierarchical orders and the 'big fish' swim in different waters. As much as there is no crime in wanting to be aspirational, I suppose one must also accept the 'exclusive'. A dichotomy for sure, but a fact of life.

I definitely think that shooting, raping and generally decimating the country with rampant corruption is a far more serious crime, and requires the attention of those smart-looking officers who are busy questioning and escorting a 23-year-old superstar's son back and forth from jail.

With my smattering knowledge of the law, it's not illegal to use or carry narcotics for one's personal use. And if one is deemed an addict, then one must commit to go to a rehabilitation center. But 3,000 people on a ship hosting a rave party and only eight teenyboppers caught and one with a name that makes all other names pale by comparison? I believe the mother bringing burgers was also viewed with suspicion, while a political big-wig's son goes scot-free after shooting a man in cold blood witnessed by hordes of people!

After discussing the pitiable State of affairs, we all go back to distracting ourselves. So when my friend invited me to 3D (drink dance and dine) at the new hotspot Bhola & Blonde, I jumped at the opportunity. It was great to meet up with a newer bunch of people. The ambience was Indian with a fabulous crooner who sang Hindi numbers.

The fare was traditional Indian food and it was easy to shake a leg to desi numbers. It's really nice to hear music and laughter again.

The 'people of consequence' claim that the 'pandemic' has now become a mere 'epidemic'. But who will believe our politicians!

Hayagreeva

(Recipe by Madhuri Aggarwal, @msaggarwal)

INGREDIENTS

- Bengal gram/Chana Dal 1 cup
- Jaggery 1 cup
- Poppy seeds 2 tbsp
- Grated dry coconut 1/4 cup
- Cardamom/Elachi 3

METHOD

- Soak the Bengal gram for half an hour and pressure cook till it is firm. Usually, it's cooked for three whistles.
- In a deep pan, boil 2 cups of water along with jaggery, poppy seeds and grated dry coconut.
- Boil it till the jaggery dissolves completely and it gets syrupy. Not a one-string consistency but syrupy.
- Add the pressure cooked lentils into this syrup, cover it and cook it till the lentils soak all the syrup and thicken.
- Add cardamom powder and give it a good mix.
- Make sure you do not mash the lentils too much.
- Garnish it with some grated dry coconut, toasted poppy seeds, serve hot.

Rava Kheer

(Recipe by Sindhu Bharadwaj, @slurpyplatter)

- Rava 50 gm
- Full fat milk 2 cups (can use non-dairy milk as well for vegan option)
- Sugar 3/4 cup
- Saffron strands a pinch (soaked in a tsp of warm milk)
- Mixed nuts (almonds, pistachios, cashews) 2 tbsp finely chopped
- Raisins 1 tbsp
- Ghee 1 tbsp

METHOD

- Roast the rava on medium flame for 5-7 minutes until aromatic.
- Add milk and cook the rava till it thickens to a porridge consistency.
- Now, add the sugar and mix well. Keep the flame on low until the mixture thickens further, add the saffron milk.
- Heat ghee in a pan and add the nuts, raisins. Pour this over the kheer and enjoy it warm.

Gujjia

(Recipe by Neel Sharma, @grihamsocial)

- Plain flour 2 cups
- Ghee 4 tbsps, melted (clarified ghee) + 3 tbsp
- For roasting filling
- Water as required to knead the dough
- Salt 1/2 tsp
- Oil for deep frying
- For the filling
- Dry coconut 1/2 cup
- Mawa 1/2 cup
- Powdered sugar 3/4 cup
- Cardamom powder 1 tsp
- Nutmeg powder 1/4 tsp
- Pistachios fistful
- Cashew nuts fistful
- Almonds 1/4th cup (blanched and peeled)

METHOD

- In a bowl, add flour, salt, ghee and knead the dough. Divide the dough and shape it into small balls. Keep aside, covered, for half an hour.
- Heat a pan, add 1/2 tsp ghee, add grated coconut, and roast over medium flame for a few minutes, till it turns golden brown. Add a tsp of ghee, nuts, and roast till golden. Remove, cool and make a coarse powder.
- Drizzle 1/2 tsp of ghee and add the khoya/mawa and roast for 5-6 mins. Powder the sugar and mix with the roasted dry coconut, groundnuts, and mawa. Add the cardamom powder and mix well. Set aside the prepared filling.
- Now, roll each ball with the rolling pin into a thin puri.
- Spread a tsp of the filling on one — half of the rolled — out dough. Wet your finger and run it along the edges of the spread-out dough with water and fold over to the opposite end, enclosing the stuffing to form a semi-circle. Use a fork to seal the edges. Twist the edges.
- Heat enough oil in a wide vessel. Slowly drop 3-4 gujias into the oil and deep fry them on medium flame till golden brown. Drain the gujia with a slotted ladle and place it on a plate.
- Cool and store in air-tight containers. Gujia remains fresh for at least a week and can be stored up to 2-3 weeks.

- SYRUP: Boil sugar and water; when sugar melts, add kesar (dissolved in warm water) and elachi.
- Boil for 20 minutes till you get a thread-like consistency. Turn off the flame.
- Dip each slice of bread in the syrup. Allow it to soak for 5 minutes. Keep it aside.

- RABRI: Boil one litre of milk, reduce till half. Stir continuously.
- Add sugar, and mix it. Add elachi and mix again for 5 minutes. Allow it to cool. Keep it in the fridge or enjoy at room temperature.

HOW TO SERVE

- In a serving plate, place sweet bread, pour Rabri on top, garnish with sliced pistas.

SHARAN'S NEXT TO BE HELMED BY NAVANEETH

This full-fledged-horror flick will be bankrolled by Tarun Shivappa; 80 per cent of the film will be shot in the snowy regions of Uttarakhand

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Sharan, who is currently shooting for Guru Shishyaru, will next team up with director Navaneeth. The untitled film is said to be a full-fledged horror flick and it will be bankrolled by Tarun Shivappa. This will be the fifth project for the production house that has earlier produced films like Rose and Victory 2 and for director Navaneeth, this will be his third project after Karva and Buck-aasura. "I am excited to team up with Sharan. I have had this script with me for a while now and I narrated a story to Sharan about 50 days ago. He was impressed with the subject and gave his nod," says the director.

This film is expected to go on floors from November. Interestingly, eighty per cent of this film will be shot in the snowy regions of Uttarakhand where the team has finalised a few scenic locations. The film's cinematography will be handled by Anup Kattukaran. "Anup has been the man behind a number of popular commercials and this will be his first Kannada film," adds Navaneeth. An official announcement of the project, along with the title and rest of the cast and crew details will be out soon. A source close to the unit says that a popular actor will also be a part of the project

Navaneeth and Tarun Shivappa

JAKE TO HEADLINE SUPERHERO FILM PROPHET

CE FEATURES

Hollywood actor Jake Gyllenhaal will headline an upcoming superhero movie titled Prophet.

Directed by Extraction-helmer Sam Hargrave, the film is based on writer Rob Liefeld's Image comic book series. Marc Guggenheim has adapted the script to screen.

In the film, Gyllenhaal will play John Prophet, a man conscripted by Germans near the end of World War II and subjected to scientific experiments that gave him superhuman strength. Prophet volunteers for the experiment near the end of World War II in order to feed his family. A bombing buries him alive and traps him underground for 20 years. When he awakens in 1965, the world has moved on and his daughter resents him. KGF agents are now after him to create super-soldiers from his blood.

A still from Kabzaa

R Chandru and Nawab Shah

The shooting of director R Chandru's upcoming pan-India film, starring Upendra, was resumed on October 4

NAWAB SHAH JOINS KABZAA CAST

CE FEATURES

KABZAA, which boasts of an ensemble cast, now has multilingual actor Nawab Shah joining the team. The fifth schedule of R Chandru's directorial venture, starring Upendra and Sudeep, was resumed on October 4, and Nawab has already started shooting for his portions.

The team shared a few stills with CE from the sets.

"Since we are working towards making a pan-Indian film, I was looking for a rugged and well-built actor, who will appeal to audiences across the country. And I am happy to have Nawab Shah on board," says R Chandru, who is currently filming crucial portions in a 46-day schedule.

Meanwhile, R Chandru is planning to reveal a multilingual teaser on Deepavali. The film, set to be released in seven languages, has music by Ravi Basrur; cinematography by AJ Shetty; and editing by Mahesh Reddy.

Kabzaa's cast also stars a few well-known actors like Jagapathi Babu, Rahul Dev, Anup Revanna, Kabir Duhan Singh, Danish Akhtar Saifi, Pradeep Rawat, Jayaprakash, and Kota Srinivas among others. Kabzaa is presented by MTB Nagaraj and produced by the director himself under his production banner Sri Siddheshwara Enterprises.

SALAGA TO HIT 300 THEATRES ACROSS STATE

A grand pre-release event is organised by the team on October 10, which will be attended by politicians and Sandalwood stars

A still from Salaga

CE FEATURES

SALAGA'S release is round the corner, and Duniya Vijay can't wait to showcase his film to the audience on October 14. Tagaru producer KP Sreekanth, who is bankrolling this project, says, "The film will release in over 300 screens across Karnataka and will have around 1200 shows." "Also, Salaga will be releasing in single theatres of Hosur, and will be a multiplex release in Pune and a few other parts of India," says Sreekanth.

Meanwhile, the makers are organising a grand pre-release event on October 10, which will be attended by politicians (Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar) along with popular stars like Shivarajkumar, Upendra, and Puneeth Rajkumar.

Salaga, the directorial debut of Duniya Vijay, is based on the stories of the underworld. It also stars Dhananjay in a pivotal role while Sanjana Anand is cast in the female lead. The film also stars Nagabhushana, BV Bhaskar, Achyuth Kumar, and Rangayana Raghu.

Suraj Gowda puts best foot forward in his directorial debut

Cast: Suraj Gowda, Dhanya Ramkumar, Rajinikanth and Sowmya Bhat
Director: Suraj Gowda

A SHARADHAA

With his directorial debut, Ninna Sanihake, Suraj Gowda has come up with a good story, but the execution turns out to be a bit underwhelming. There is an interesting and debatable subject at the core of Suraj's film, which tells the story of a live-in couple and depicts their sweet and sour moments.

A prank brings together Amrutha (Dhanya Ramkumar), a dentist, and Aditya (Suraj Gowda), an amateur photographer. Soon they find themselves in love with each other. They later move in together without telling their parents and neighbors. When things seem to go smoothly, a small misunderstanding creates a dent in their relationship. The modern romantic drama is then about whether or not the couple patches up.

The actor-turned-director Suraj Gowda has managed to do a decent job behind the camera and deserves applause. But due to the simplistic narrative and ordinary dialogue deliveries, the film does not make a long-lasting impression. Also, the film's script doesn't warrant the long run time (it's about 2-hour long). Some sharp editing could have made it crisp.

Ninna Sanihake marks Dhanya Ramkumar's debut and she has put her best foot forward. It will be interesting to see how she takes her career forward from here. Rajinikanth, who plays a supporting role, provides some effective light-hearted humour, while Sowmya Bhat's role gives an insight into how young girls are victimized in the name of love.

One of the highlights of the film is Raghu Dixit's music - especially the song Male Male Male. The film is also aided by DOP Abhilash Kalathi's work, which is more efficient in the song sequences.

In a film, which discusses the pros and cons of live-in relationships, actor Suraj's first attempt at direction needs all encouragement from the audience.

A QUIET PLACE PART II

Cast: Emily Blunt, Cillian Murphy, Millicent Simmonds, Noah Jupe, John Krasinski
Director: John Krasinski

KIRUBHAKAR PURUSHOTHAMAN

A Quiet Place (2018) dropped us right in the middle of a post-apocalyptic world, where Lee Abbot (John Krasinski) does everything he can to keep his wife Evelyn (Emily Blunt), his deaf daughter, Regan (Millicent Simmonds), and son, Marcus (Noah Jupe), safe from the blind extraterrestrial predators that are hypersensitive to sound. John Krasinski, also the director, divulged only a little background information about the monsters, the people, and what had happened. And that's exactly why that film turned out to be an engrossing watch. We explored the remnants of the apocalypse with the Abbott family, who knew more about this treacherous world than we did.

In a brief, brilliant prologue of this sequel, the tables are turned. The people are shown going about their business with no idea of what is to come, but we know. There's tension with every passing second, and we want to scream at the locals to take cover. This time around, we do get to see where the monsters are actually coming from.

Like the director, the monsters waste no time in getting down to business. This sequence also has another objective, the introduction of Emmett (Cillian Murphy), a friend of John.

The film then cuts back to the present, to the same moment where the first part left us. In the present, we see Emmett as a hopeless survivor, who is hardened by the death of his entire family. The Abbotts run into Emmett on their journey to find other survivors. Both Abbotts and Emmett are eaten by grief, but it is interesting to see how differently it manifests. Emmett turns out to be a guilt-stricken cynic, while Regan, taking after her deceased father, wants to fight against this formidable threat. While the first part was entirely about the personal battle of a family, the scope of the sequel goes beyond it. It is not just about survival anymore. It is time to fight back.

As Regan keeps hearing a 'Beyond the Sea' song broadcast on a radio channel, she suspects it's a signal from fellow survivors on an island. She wants to use her cochlear implant and broadcast the high-frequency noise through the radio tower to give all the survivors a fighting chance. It's now up to Emmett to let go of pessimism and help Regan.

It's fascinating to see how both the parts don't care much about what's outside of their narratives. For example, we do get a glimpse of a set of feral humans in the sequel, who are as scary as the monsters (even if not in appearance), but this film doesn't delve into it too much. In a sense, this minimalism reminded me of Cormac McCarthy's novel, The Road (2006), that was later adapted into a 2009 film of the same name. However, A Quiet Place Part II isn't as ambiguous, and it doesn't take as much time pondering the psyche or the impact of the catastrophe on human nature. It prioritises genre pleasures above everything, with its prime focus being on entertaining you, and boy, does it deliver on that front.
